

End Wildcat Strikes, Steel Union Orders

McDonald Points To Agreement for Prolonging Talks

New York—The United Steelworkers union today ordered an immediate end to scattered wildcat strikes which erupted last night and today, idling more than 20,000 of the industry half million workers.

The walkouts had been staged against the wishes of President Eisenhower and, for the most part, against orders of top union officials. Union and industry negotiators on Saturday bowed to a plea from President Eisenhower that the current contract, due to expire at midnight last night, be extended two weeks for further negotiations.

Telegrams Sent Union President David J. McDonald, here heading the union's 4-man team seeking to negotiate a new contract with the nation's major steel producers, said of the wildcat strikes:

"The international union has taken prompt and vigorous action to honor the extension agreements with the various steel companies.

"Telegrams have been dispatched, signed by the international officers, directing immediate withdrawal of all unauthorized picket lines and resumption of operations."

McDonald's action came with local officials already at the gates of some struck.

Drapes Prove Embarrassing To Air Force

Washington—The air force, already roundly criticized by congress for the cost of its new academy at Colorado Springs, is suffering fresh embarrassment in the case of the $4,500 drapes.

It seems the air force spent around $90,000 to build a 21-foot overhanging roof around its glass-walled academy dining hall to keep out the sun.

In justifying the expenditure, Air Force Sec. James H. Douglas last year told the house appropriations committee the overhang would eliminate any need for drapes.

Drapes Installed

So what happened? In this year's appropriations committee hearings made public today, Rep. Harry M. Sheppard (D-Calif.) disclosed that drapes costing $2,000 already have been installed in the dining hall with another $2,500 needed to finish the job.

That, Sheppard noted, was for only one of the three glass-walled sides of the room.

"Taking the testimony that we have had," it makes me wonder just where we can hang our hats with the regard to the validity of some of these comments," Sheppard told Under Sec. M. A. MacIntyre.

MacIntyre had no explanation. But he said he was sure Douglas "would be quite upset in learning about the facts."

"It is not a heartbreaking item as far as the money is concerned," Sheppard observed, but "it places the committee and the air force in an embarrassing position."

The subject was dropped. Apparently the drapes stay up. So does the $90,000 roof overhang.

President and Kozlov Talk About Berlin

Deputy Premier Asserts Meeting Was 'Wonderful'

Washington—President Eisenhower and Russia's First Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov discussed the east-west deadlock over Berlin in a 70-minute conference today.

Kozlov was grinning broadly when he came out of the president's office.

Waving his arms, he said in a booming voice to some 100 newsmen in the White House lobby:

"I hope peace will prevail throughout the world."

Talks of Peace

He said "the cardinal question is the question of peace."

Then, speaking outside the White House before newsreel and television cameras, Kozlov described his conference with Eisenhower as wonderful.

Renewing his peace theme, he added that he hoped the peace he has in mind "will be a strong, secure peace."

"Did you talk about Berlin?" one of the reporters asked as Kozlov hurried to keep a luncheon date with the senate foreign relations committee. The 50-year-old Soviet leader didn't answer. Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov who accompanied him during his meeting with Eisenhower told the newsmen: "We will meet again and talk about all these things."

Kozlov is due to appear before a combined lunch and news conference given in his honor tomorrow at a downtown hotel.

The White House through Associate Press Secretary Anne Wheaton declined to comment on the Eisenhower-Kozlov meeting.

Mrs. Wheaton said there would be no statement, such as there was after Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko talked with Eisenhower a few weeks ago.

Manson Given Senate Approval

Madison—The senate today confirmed unanimously the appointment of Charles L. Manson of Wausau to succeed Paul Rogan as state insurance commissioner.

Manson, 60, was appointed to the post by Gov. Gaylord Nelson. The 4-year term to which he was named pays $13,000 annually. Manson is a Democrat and has been in the insurance business in Wausau for 25 years.

Sen. Kirby Hendee, R-Milwaukee, asked and received a unanimous vote that Rogan be awarded a certificate of commendation for "his excellent job the last four years."

Rogan has joined a Milwaukee mortgage firm.

Expects to Start Cut In U. S. Debt

Washington—President Eisenhower said today the matter of inflation will be one of the main issues of the 1960 presidential campaign.

The president also told a news conference that he not only looks for a balanced budget in the new fiscal year starting today — he expects a start on paying off the $285 billion national debt.

He said he believes the Democratic-controlled congress also expects the administration to start paying off the debt during the next 12 months.

He noted that congress has just approved legislation — which he signed yesterday — providing for a new permanent debt ceiling of $285 billion.

The legislation also sets a temporary limit of $295 billion.

Deficit Not Known

Final figures have not been released on the government's deficit in the fiscal year which has just closed. It is in the neighborhood of $13 billion.

Eisenhower was asked whether he believes inflation will be the main issue in next year's presidential campaign. He replied it certainly will be one of the principal issues.

Then he added that he had thought this in the 1958 elections, but the outcome of the congressional campaign did not lead him to believe the people were as greatly concerned as he had expected.

Eisenhower, in reply to a question, said he had no knowledge of any confidential government report predicting a 3 per cent increase in the consumers price index in 1960.

Today is the forty-third wedding anniversary of President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

Court Upholds Right to Take News Pictures

Milwaukee—The right of a news photographer to take a picture of an unwilling subject, is a constitutional right of freedom of the press, a district court judge ruled Tuesday.

Judge Robert W. Haffsen fined Milton Diamond, 31, of Milwaukee $50 for disorderly conduct after it was testified that Diamond wrestled George Kosholek, a Milwaukee Journal photographer, to the floor and seized the film from his camera after Kosholek took Diamond's picture in a corridor of the Milwaukee county courthouse.

Diamond had appeared in circuit court where his brother, Isadore, 29, Chicago, contested the will of their mother who cut Isadore off with $1 million he divorced his Roman Catholic wife and married a Jewish girl.

Judge Roy Stauff set aside the will drawn by the late Mrs. Edith Diamond, 67, and ruled that the two sons should share equally in her $40,000 estate. He ruled that the will was against public policy because it "was calculated to induce a divorce."

Luebke Wins Race In West Germany

Adenauer's Candidate Chosen Over 2 Others on 2nd Ballot

Berlin—Heinrich Luebke, 64-year-old agriculturist minister, was elected president of West Germany today.

Luebke was the candidate of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian democratic party.

He defeated Carlo Schmid, the socialist candidate, and Max Becker, who was the choice of the liberal free democratic party.

Luebke won on the second ballot with 526 votes in the 1,038-member electoral college. This was six more votes than needed.

First Ballot Results

He had 517 votes, or three shy of the required majority on the first ballot. Schmid had 385 on the first ballot and Becker 104.

Luebke, a jaunty man, has been minister of agriculture six years, but he is little known outside farming circles.

He served in the Kaiser's army in World War I and then became a member of the Catholic center party.

When Hitler rose to power in 1933 the members of the Catholic center party came under suspicion and Luebke was jailed for 20 months. During World War II he worked for a Berlin construction company.

Luebke was one of the first members of the postwar Christian democratic party. He is married but has no children.

He was a late choice of his party for the presidency.

The election was held here 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain despite communist protests that it was an affront to East Germany.

Protest Cut In Air Service

Winnebago Men Say Appleton Was Given Preference

Oshkosh — Elimination of two Oshkosh flights in preference to Appleton has brought a protest from two Winnebago county officials in a letter to H. N. Carr, president of North Central airlines.

The letter, signed by Supv. Alvin Staffeld, Neenah, chairman of the aviation committee, and Supv. Joseph Drexler, Oshkosh, county board chairman and aviation committee secretary, asked restoration of service at an early date.

Affects Air Mail

They said they understood the discontinuance resulted from a decision by the Civil Aeronautics Board to provide a stop at Appleton and that Green Bay service has been similarly curtailed.

Approximately 19 per cent of all passenger boardings at the Winnebago county airport have been on flight 456, which is southbound from Minneapolis to Milwaukee and Chicago, landing at the Oshkosh airport at 1 p.m., they stated.

"Service from Minneapolis to Oshkosh will be greatly

Weather Cancels Historic Flights

North Central Plane Rerouted to Clintonville; 500 Wait in Rain

History will have to wait a day in the Fox Cities.

Heavy, "pea soup" weather forced cancellation of the first two commercial airlines flights into the Outagamie county airport today.

The northbound flight, with 14 passengers for the Fox Cities aboard, will land in Clintonville. They will be brought to Appleton by automobile.

Flight 245, scheduled to land at 11:04 a.m., was delayed about half an hour in Chicago by weather. The expected clearing conditions failed to develop here.

About 500 Fox Cities residents waited through intermittent showers at the airport this morning to witness the historic landing. Heavy clouds kept the airport in an almost perpetual half-light.

Under federal regulations, an airport the size of the Outagamie port cannot accept planes under cloudy flight conditions—ceiling under 800 feet. The decision to cancel out both flights came about noon.

Two Passengers

Aboard the plane were county board Chairman Alvin Fulmer, who was to have cut the ribbon officially inaugurating service.

Other passengers were Mayor Clarence Mitchell, Gus A. Zuehlke, president of the chamber of commerce, and William Pifer, chairman of the chamber's airport committee.

Two passengers waiting at the airport terminal were transferred by limousine to Green Bay to take another flight. They were George C.

Woman Elected As Moderator

Oberlin, Ohio — The Evangelical and Reformed church today, for the first time, elected a woman as its moderator. She is Miss Frances Kapitzy, a woman banker from Strasburg, Ohio, who is interested in amateur dramatics and choir singing.

Her election as head of this church automatically makes her co-moderator of the United Church of Christ. The Evangelical and Reformed church and the Congregational Christian churches are in the process of merging into the United Church of Christ. The heads of the two merging denominations preside jointly over the UCC, which will convene here Sunday. The other co-moderator is Rev. Ray Phillips of Boston.

Diaz turned in his resignation to President Manuel Urrutia and leveled the red charges after returning to July from a month's absence attributed to typhoid fever.

Maj. Juan Almeida, who commanded the air force in Diaz's absence, was named to succeed him. A few hours later Almeida ordered his predecessor's arrest and accused him of desertion, treason, robbery and dealing with members of former Dictator Fulgencio Batista's regime.

Diaz in his letter of resignation had accused Almeida of

Pilot Not at Fault In Okinawa Crash

Declare Airman Did Everything Possible to Prevent Plane From Hitting Populated Region

Naha, Okinawa — The division, said Schmitt could not have brought the plane under control even if he had remained with it. With 19 of the injured in critical condition, there was a possibility that there would be more deaths. It was one of the air force's worst air disasters in the Far East since World War II. The air force said that 10 of the dead and 102 of the injured were pupils of the primary school the plane struck in its fiery fall. After hitting a corner of the school, the disintegrating plane leap-frogged over a 10-block residential area, setting fire to more than 30 houses. Smith said Schmitt would not be available for an interview until after an investigation is completed. Okinawa newspapers asked when he would give his version of what happened. Leftist Elements There was a possibility that the accident would be exploited by leftist elements on the U.S.-administered island. Socialists in Japan already were suggesting that if the U.S. air force did not occupy the former Japanese possession, there would not be any casualties to mourn.

Sees Need for More Spending On Education

U. S. Will Have To Pay Big Share, Committee Claims

St. Louis — Local and state governments must overhaul their tax laws to produce more money for public schools. Even so, says a group of experts, the federal government will have to pay a big part of the bill for quality education. The Committee on Tax Education and School Finance, which has been studying the problem for the National Education association, said poor education is a national problem, no matter where it is found. The committee will report its findings to the NEA convention here.

Support Bill

The convention yesterday almost unanimously supported a proposal that the various state groups send a flood of telegrams to their congressmen asking support of the Murray-Metcalf bill.

Nebraska Man Named Dean at Platteville

Platteville — Dr. Harold L. Hutcheson of Nebraska State Teachers college was named Tuesday as the dean of administration at Platteville State to succeed Dr. Roger R. Guiles, now president of Oshkosh State. Dr. Hutcheson will assume his new duties Aug. 1.

Courts in State to be Reorganized

Madison — Proposed reorganization of Wisconsin's court system got final approval in the senate Tuesday. The measure repeals present law on county court organization and gives that branch exclusive jurisdiction over probate, juvenile and adoption matters. The present state supreme court, circuit courts and justices of the peace would be retained. All other courts are given identical jurisdiction with county courts. The senate also approved an assembly-passed bill that would eliminate compulsory reserve officers training for men students during their first two years at the University of Wisconsin.

Some southern delegates are reported to be afraid that there might be an attempt to write into the Murray-Metcalf bill a stipulation that funds would be withheld from states which had not integrated the races in their public schools.

Hank Fort, a Songwriter from Tennessee, puckers her lips for a birthday kiss from House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas) at a party in Washington. Hank has written such southern favorites as "I Didn't Know the Gun was Loaded." She sings too.

Tax Package Strikes Snag In Legislature

Joint Finance Unit Rejects Three Parts Of Nelson's Plan

Madison — Gov. Gaylord Nelson's $12 million tax package hit rough going Tuesday as the Democratic controlled joint finance committee recommended rejection of measures to raise more than two-thirds of the total. Three bills that would have upped revenue for the biennium a total of $8,248,000 received a disapproving vote from the 114-man body. Seven other measures to bring in $3,032,680 were recommended or adopted by the legislature.

Tax on Beer
Proposed tax boosts on beer, tobacco and inheritance and gifts were tagged for indefinite postponement. A measure calling for $3,600,000 more in primary rates on gifts and inheritances was the largest revenue raiser rejected by the committee. It was called a "soak the rich" bill at a recent hearing. Largest money-making measure with committee endorsement was a bill that would eliminate a banking firm's right to deduct certain business expenses such as advertising from its net income. In effect, it would hike bank taxes an estimated $1,250,000 during the biennium. The committee also approved a wine tax that would net about $60,000. In a separate vote, the beer tax was rejected 10-3. The tax would have netted $11 million in two years by raising the present $1 levy to $1.25 a barrel.

State Colleges
A bill boosting tuition in the nine state colleges was recommended for passage in a 13-0 vote. It would increase resident tuitions $20 and non-resident tuition $50, thus bringing in a total of $592,000 during the biennium. Suggested reenactment of the state's 20 per cent surtax on individual income also was sidetracked. The measure, introduced Monday by Sen. William Draheim, R-Veenah, was temporarily laid aside.

Bill Lets Marshfield Take Low Airport Bid
Madison — A bill that would permit the city of Marshfield to accept a $325,087 low bid for construction of a new airport was passed by both houses of the Wisconsin legislature Tuesday. The state aeronautics commission rejected the low bid because a guarantee check, which state law requires the bidder to submit, was $254.37 short.

Some Agencies Start New Year Without Funds

'Stopgap' Measure Offers Temporary Dollars for Work

Washington — It was an unhappy fiscal new year today for more than a score of government agencies.

They started off the new government year of 1960 not knowing where their next million—or billion—dollars was coming from. But they had assurances that they would get it sooner or later, and they had definite plans on how to spend it.

They are the agencies whose budgets for the new year had not been acted on finally by congress when the old government year faded out last midnight. Among them are some of the biggest spenders in government, like the defense department and the international cooperation administration.

'Stopgap' Bill

Rather than leave them technically penniless, congress rushed to their rescue yesterday with its traditional "stopgap" appropriation bill. This provides money for the month of July only, normally at the rate of about one-twelfth of what would be available if the 1960 budget bills were not snagged on Capitol Hill. In the case of the defense department, for example, this is a little over $3 billion and will finance normal activities for one month. These temporary measures are nothing new. Congress has been enacting them for years when it reached the sudden realization late in June that a lot of bills financing the year starting July 1 were still kicking around.

Customary Cautions
Yesterday's measure was passed with the customary cautions against excessive spending and with a mild rebuke to the senate for increasing appropriations voted by the house.

Miniature Circus
Reconstructed famous old circus wagons and floats, a $50,000 miniature circus built to scale of the Ringling colossus when it traveled on four trains, and other authentic items of circus paraphernalia are on display. There also is a regular circus tent that is occupied by Blanche, a 4,000-pound Indian elephant and other animals.

W. P. Chrysler French Art Auctioned

London — Twenty-nine French impressionist paintings and drawings owned by U. S. art collector Walter P. Chrysler, Jr., brought 219,020 pounds ($613,256) at auction today.

The sale set no records and fell considerably short of the approximately $800,000 experts had estimated the auction would bring. The top price was paid for Cezanne's portrait of his wife, which sold for $112,000. The high bidder was identified only as Mr. Beyerle, a dealer from Basel, Switzerland. Braque's "Femme a la Mandoline" also was knocked down to Beyerle for $100,800. Gauguin's still life "Flowers with Books" also brought $100,800. Chrysler, who arrived near the end of the sale, did not appear disappointed. "I'm quite happy about the price," he said.

Works put on the block included six Cezannes, six Renoirs, five Picassos and works by Gauguin, Degas, Modigliani, Monet and Toulouse Lautrec. It was only a tiny fraction of Chrysler's huge collection, which also includes Italian Renaissance and works of the Italian Renaissance, German, Dutch, Flemish, and English schools.

Long Says He'll Call Special Session to Deal With Committal

Governor Returns at 4 a.m. From Midnight Dinner With Friends

Covington, La. — Gov. Earl Long said in a pre-dawn news conference today he would have tightened regulations on small loan companies. Another would have set back two weeks the Dec. 5 gubernatorial primary date. "I know a couple of the men responsible and they're supposed to be my friends," Long said. He told newsmen he had about four hours sleep before going out to eat and talk with his friends.

For several hours yesterday Louisiana politicians hurried into the piney woods town of Covington where Long — beset by divorce, income tax and health problems — is busy running for reelection. Although physicians say Gov. Long has suffered a series of mild strokes, Louisiana's chief executive continued his mad pace after midnight in May, two of Long's night.

Picasso Moves Into Old French Chateau

Aix-en-Provence, France—Some of the pictures are stacked against the walls awaiting a place. Some of the world's most valuable paintings are hanging haphazardly on the walls of an old chateau 10 miles south of Aix. Nails have been driven into the walls of the old guards' room to hang the collection.

Some of the pictures are stacked against the walls awaiting a place. Some of the world's most valuable paintings are hanging haphazardly on the walls of an old chateau 10 miles south of Aix. Nails have been driven into the walls of the old guards' room to hang the collection.

This is the 60-room Chateau de Vauvenargues. Artist Pablo Picasso bought the place, with its 2,600 acres, about 10 months ago. Since then he has been making repairs and moving in his belongings. French art are represented. "That's Matisse's daughter, Marguerite. He gave it to me in 1907," he told a visitor. "This one is the best Modigliani there is. I bought it from him in 1904." Gauguin, Rouault and many other famous names of Picasso has only one worry recently.

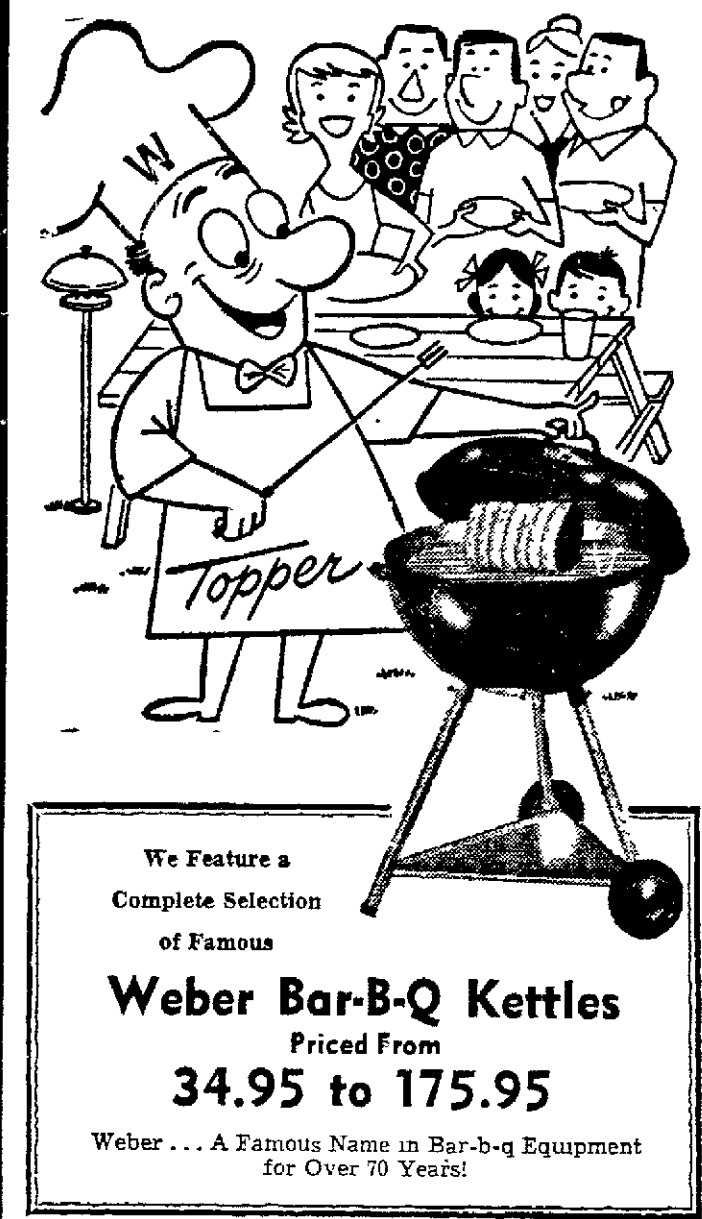

The bathroom has a Picasso collector not to beat me over the head too much. You know what the tax collector answered? "Don't worry about him as long as his paintings bring 75 million francs ($151,000) like one did at a London sale recently."

Inflation to be Major Issue, Ike Declares regarding a candidate, he definitely never will disclose a request that he set forth his formula for 43 years of successful marriage.

Hasn't Changed Stand

To a round of laughter, Eisenhower replied that he really has no formula. His marriage, he smiled, has been a very happy experience. Then he added that a successful marriage gets happier as the years go by.

In the course of the news conference, the president touched on these other topics:

He still believes there is no point in his going to a summit conference with the Russians unless there is adequate preparation in advance by what he called the legitimate diplomatic agencies of government.

That was an allusion to the Big Four foreign ministers who will resume talks in Geneva July 13, picking up at that point after six recent weeks of fruitless negotiations.

As to politics, he said the Republican party has many able and qualified potential candidates for the presidential nomination.

Won't Express Choice

Eisenhower added, in response to a question, that it would be too much to expect him to be neutral ports that Milton was forced on Nixon by the president.

Speaking an hour in advance of a scheduled conference with Soviet Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov, Eisenhower said he very much enjoyed the visit he had earlier this week with Kozlov in New York.

That was when Eisenhower visited the Soviet scientific and cultural exposition in New York.

On that occasion, Eisenhower said, he found Kozlov to be a man who enjoys a joke and likes to have fun.

Eisenhower went on to say that while he enjoyed that visit it was personal and in no way political.

The president was asked for comment on a supreme court decision this week that there is no present authority for the firing of private industrial plant employees on security grounds. He replied that the administration ordered a careful study of that ruling as soon as it was handed down, and that he couldn't say anything further pending completion of that study.

In connection with government operations, there are all sorts of things which simply cannot be made public for security reasons, Eisenhower said. He made that remark when asked for comment on what a reporter referred to as differences between congress and the executive branch regarding freedom of information about government business.

Old Problem

That issue, the president said, goes back to the time of George Washington. There always is certain information, he added, which obviously would damage U. S. security if it were made public.

He was asked, as he was at his last previous news conference, whether he had any plans to carry the fight for his legislative and fiscal program directly to the people.

The questioner apparently had in mind a nationwide television - radio address. Eisenhower replied that for the moment he has no such plans.

With emphasis, he said he has no intention to act as a personal censor regarding the which the government is paintings and sculptures sending to Moscow for display at the U. S. exposition opening later this month.

He indicated, however, that he has been concerned about criticism of the works of art chosen for the fair. He said he had pictures taken of each of the objects when the controversy broke out.

As for a specific painting showing a U. S. general, Eisenhower said it looks more like a lampoon than real art. He added that the government's only rule in selection of the items to be displayed was choice of a selection committee by George V. Allen, chief of the United States Information Agency.

The questions did not touch on contentions by some congress members that many of the paintings and sculptures were done by persons associated with communist front organizations.

trying to supplant him because of his outspoken opposition to communist influence on Castro's government and his army.

The new air force chief said Diaz had been under investigation for crimes "to which he must answer before revolutionary tribunals." He charged that Diaz had raised the cry of communist infiltration "when he say he was unable to continue with his robberies."

Almeida added that, as a result of Diaz's defection, some persons already had been arrested.

Diaz's Charge was the first fro ma member of the revolutionary high command. Castro has repeatedly denied similar charges from outside the ranks of his revolutionary forces.

Always Opposed Reds

In his letter to Urrutia, Diaz declared that when he returned to his office Monday, he found Almeida absolute chief of the air force and was told the order came from Fidel Castro.

"I consider all these actions against me due exclusively to the fact that I have always opposed acts that would permit communists to take prominent positions within the rebel army and within dependencies of government," he said.

Diaz declared that red elements have used pressure to carry out "a determined plan of indoctrination" in a military officers' school in Havana.

"Furthermore, all of us know well, Mr. President, who they are, where they are, and what objectives they follow," he wrote.

Meanwhile, official sources said that a police raid on the home of a former U. S. Navy pilot had foiled a plan to invade Nicaragua by air and sea.

Arms Cache Seized

The raid on the suburban home of Capt. Paul Hughes of Atlanta, Ga., who had been advised to the Cuban rebel air force, led to the seizure of a large arms cache and the roundup of nearly 200 volunteers—most of them Nicaraguans—for the reported expedition against President Luis Somoza.

Assembly OKs Gov. Nelson's Building Bill

$20 Million Asked For First Biennium For State Projects

Madison — The assembly Tuesday passed Gov. Gaylord Nelson's bill that would appropriate $20 million for state building during the first year of the biennium.

Republicans, who tried to cut the program to about $11 million earlier in the session, voted as a block against the bill.

GOP Floorleader David Blanchard of Edgerton blocked an attempt to send the bill immediately to the senate. The Republican-controlled senate is expected to adopt a smaller 2-year program and force the issue into a conference committee.

Building Funds

Building funds are not included in the $380 million biennial budget signed into law last week. Building funds appropriated in the last biennium amounted to about $9 million dollars.

The $20 million requested by the governor is part of $53 million program he is asking over a 3-year period. He said additional long-range recommendations will be presented to the legislature this fall.

Blanchard urged lawmakers to wait until Nelson has had time to give building needs a thorough analysis before voting large sums of money.

McDonald expressed confidence that the union's strike-ending orders "will rectify the situation."

Talks between the 12 largest steel companies and the union were being resumed today after a weekend recess. Two negotiating sessions were scheduled daily, in place of the single meetings held in previous weeks.

The discussions have been virtually stalemated. The industry maintains any new contract should not involve an increase in total employment costs. Union demands include a substantial boost in wages now averaging $3.10 an hour.

Wildcat Walkouts

Among those hardest hit in the rash of walkouts today was the Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation plant at Alliquippa, Pa., which employs about 14,000 persons.

Pickets kept some 13,000 union members from reporting for work on the 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. shift. Some pickets carried placards saying: "No contract — no work."

Both union and company officials termed the strike a wildcat affair.

The men are members of USW Local 1211, the union's largest local. Recording Sec. Michael J. Zahorsky asserted:

"I think it is safe to say that some of the pickets are not members of the United Steelworkers. Our contract is sacred. We want the men back on the job."

He added that local President Nicholas Manula personally had gone to the plant gates to plead with union members to resume work.

At Cleveland, another wildcat walkout spread at the Republic Steel corporation Independence Road plant and curtailed production. The company said 2700 day shift workers were absent. The plant employs 9,300 on a 3-shift basis.

Local union officials said the walkout was unauthorized and that officials were at plant gates urging that it be halted. The company said production would end by tomorrow, otherwise.

The big Fairless Works of the U. S. Steel corporation at Morrisville, Pa., was shut down. Picket lines were set up late last night.

More than 7,000 employees, including 4,650 members of three USW locals, were idled. Union officials said the walkout was unauthorized.

Another development reported from Cleveland was that 3,700 unlicensed seamen on 137 Great Lakes iron ore carriers had begun leaving their ships under instructions from USW Local 5000, which represents them.

Negotiators said they had turned down any extension of the contract expiring last night.

Make Relief Available When Needed

There is no doubt that large segments of Wisconsin people have been unhappy under the law adopted by the 1957 Wisconsin legislature requiring one year of residence in the state before anything more than temporary relief can be granted. When the legislature met in January the shortcoming of the new relief law was in everyone's mind and there was much talk of amending it.

Two bills were introduced about the middle of February but no action was taken until recently. The 1957 law provided for temporary relief for a period of 20 days to a family which had not lived in the state for more than a year. There was another provision that permitted medical relief in emergencies. However, many families were found in need of relief but were unable to show a year's residence in which they had been self-supporting. This caused much comment for it is pretty well established that people of Wisconsin believe families in need should have help regardless of their length of residence or other technical matters. Local relief workers were unable to help these people because of the stringent provision in the law. Some of the families were former residents of Wisconsin who had left the state only briefly in an effort to improve their lot by getting better jobs. They had the misfortune to be thrown out of work and forced to return to Wisconsin, only to find that they had lost their residence here and not only were unable to get work quickly but were unable to get relief.

The law now under consideration in the assembly would increase the period of temporary relief for nonresidents from 20 days to 30 days and in addition, would permit the governing body of a town, village, city or county to authorize its relief agency to extend temporary assistance at its discretion.

The law is an improvement over what we have and it should be adopted. Wisconsin does not wish to extend an invitation to the needy in other states to come here for help. Neither does it wish to see people who come here for any reason suffering from lack of food, clothing or medicine. Every local government should have the discretion provided in this bill which will permit it to take care of those really in need.

Plastic Bag Continues to be Hazard

Many states and cities have taken action to require plastic bags be stamped with a warning they are dangerous to children. It is reported that 53 children have died of suffocation since 1957 as a result of playing with pastic bags. There have been nine deaths in the nation since May 21.

The bags, commonly used by dry cleaning establishments and laundries for packing clothing to be returned to the customer, have a fatal appeal to small children. The first thing the child does, apparently, is pull it over his head to demonstrate that he can see through it. Friction and rubbing the plastic against the child's skin create static electricity which makes the bag cling tightly to the face shutting off air. Death follows within a few seconds.

This has been explained to people over and over again. It has been in the headlines and has been reported on the air but still a great many persons, particularly parents, do not realize the danger to children.

Work or Not, We All Eat

Back in colonial days there was the rule, "No work, no eat," which was so successful in its time that it was carried down and taught as a part of American history to millions of grade school students during the first 100 or more years of the republic. It is still considered a good rule in many localities but generally speaking it is passed up in others with the comment that times have changed.

Milwaukee county appears to be somewhere in between the rule of "No work, no eat" and the pleasanter present rule of "Everyone eats no matter what he does." According to the Milwaukee county district attorney's office a gentleman named Cheers, who has a wife and a 4-month-old

The commonly proposed cure is to have each bag stamped with a clear warning that the bags are dangerous. It is easy to subscribe to the argument of the dry cleaners that plastic bags are useful and that their use should not be discontinued or abolished because of the danger. It is quite clear, as they point out, that sharp knives, pins, needles, medicines and a great many other items are not suitable items for children to play with although they are commonly and safely used about the house. While all this is true it is a fact also that plastic bags are such innocent appearing things that it takes a long time for a simple piece of knowledge such as the danger to a child to become known to everyone who should be so informed.

Until such information pervades probably the best and wisest thing to do is to have a warning message lettered upon the bags.

A Medal for Miss O'Neill

Society has said "Thanks" in the only way it can to the college girl who, early in May, risked her life to rescue a swimming companion from an attacking shark.

Shirley O'Neill was given a Carnegie silver medal and $750 for educational purposes by the Carnegie Hero Fund commission.

The story of Miss O'Neill's actions in going to the aid of Albert C. Kogler in the Pacific ocean off San Francisco last May 7 is too well known to repeat again here. But we submit, however, that no person was ever more deserving of recognition.

It takes some sort of cold courage to place your life in jeopardy for another hudaughter, has been on relief since 1957 and is presently drawing $116 a month. He was assigned to work on a county park project but during a period of 70 hours which he was supposed to work he actually worked only eight hours. He said he was too busy baby sitting and running errands for his wife to be bothered with labor. When pressed to work by a relief case worker he said, "I am not going to work and nobody can make me."

What is to be done about it is now up to Judge Robert W. Hansen in Milwaukee's district court. His latest action was to release Cheers without bail. What the final answer will be is difficult to predict, but if we go back to the "No work, no eat" rule we'll probably be close to a solution.

The Candle and the Moth

Maybe the meanest men in the world have finally been discovered. They are able scientists who are using the greatest weakness of the male to lure him to destruction.

Researchers at the Max Planck Institute for Biochemistry in Munich have separated the substance by which the female moth attracts the male unerringly over many miles and in great numbers. A simple chemical formula, the substance can probably be isolated for each species, made synthetically and used as bait for moth traps.

"The males will come flocking," reports one researcher glowingly. Since the larvae are the damage makers it won't matter man being. Miss O'Neill must have realized, as the screams of her stricken companion reverberated in her ears, that she, too, faced death from the relentless creature that slashed at human flesh below the choppy waters of the ocean.

The scrolls of history are dotted with names of men and women who stood up to death in the cause of humanity and righteousness. More often than not they have gone unrecognized.

The medal Miss O'Neill will cherish through her lifetime is but a token — a rather nebulous honor for her selfless deed. The great esteem and high regard in which she is held by her countrymen is, probably, the finest honor of all.

State Hospital Not Used to Capacity, Yet Ask Another

Wisconsin general hospital is on the campus of the University of Wisconsin in Madison and is a highly useful adjunct of the university's college of medicine.

For some reason or other it is not used to capacity. University figures show that on the average day there are about 80 fewer beds occupied now than in 1955-56.

A sidelight to this is a whether the females continue to lay eggs because they will be unfertilized. "And the main advantage over DDT is that resistant strains are never likely to emerge. Who ever heard of a male animal becoming immune to sex?"

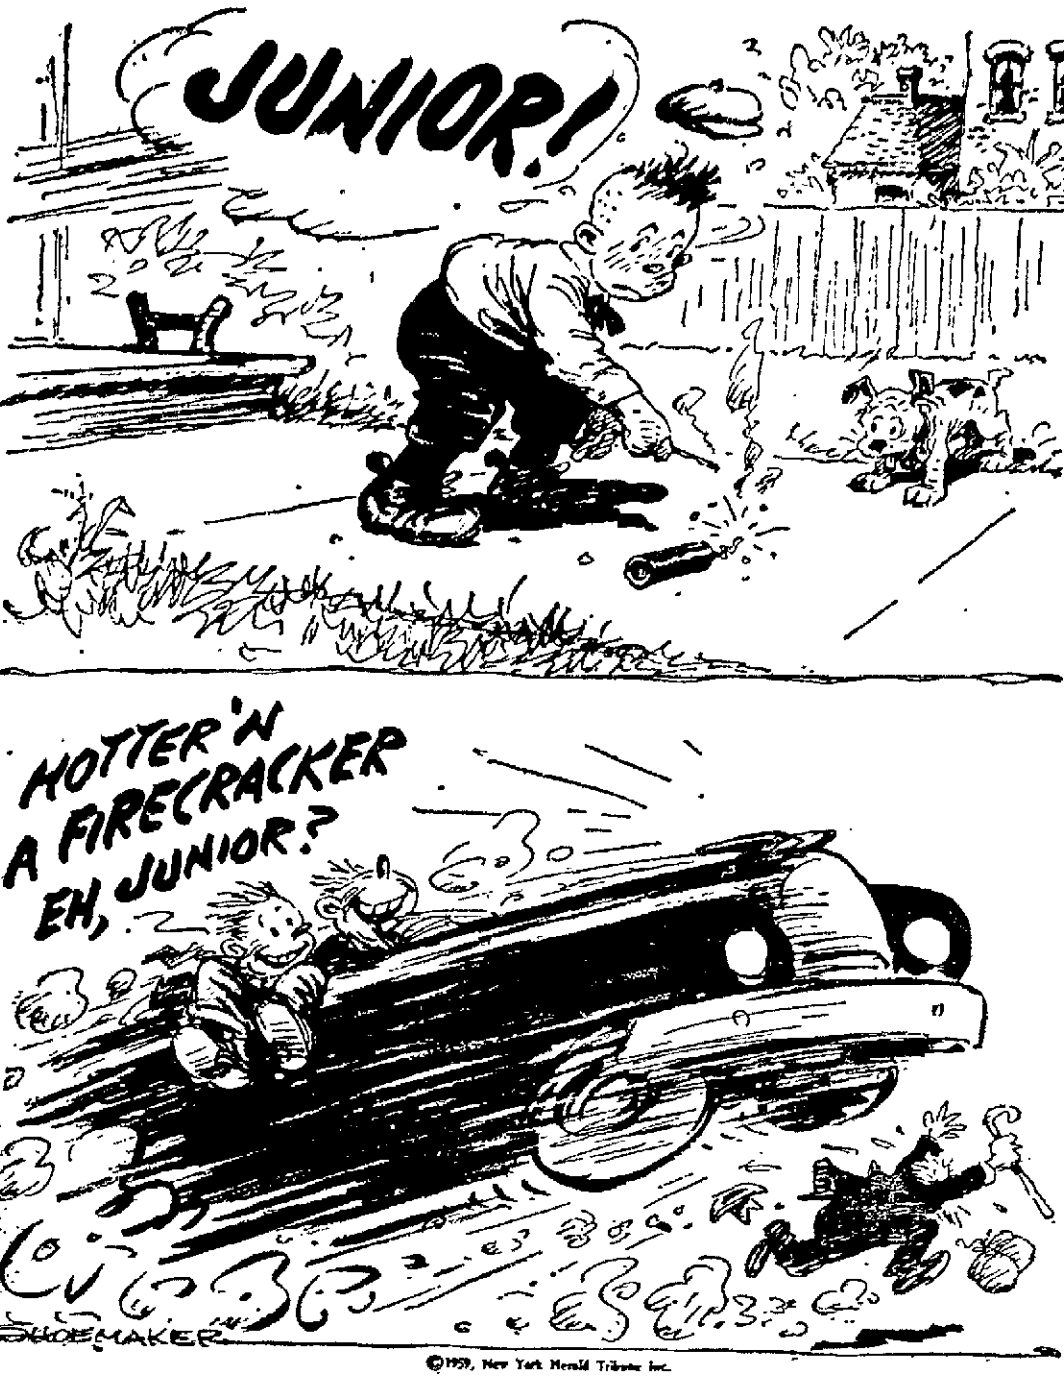

Of course this type of thing has really been going on for centuries. The black widow spider notoriously lures her mate to her side and then devours him. Ancient and modern literature is full of the same thing by human beings on the figurative level. It's not enough now that nature plays on the side of the feminine. Science, too, is lending aid.

current push to have constructed in Madison a new $500,000 institution which could draw upon the medical personnel of the hospital to serve some 30 mentally disturbed children at an operational cost of from $3,000 to $10,000 per child per year.

Sen. Humphrey's Forestry Talk Won't Get Him Votes in Oregon

From The Tacoma News Tribune
It is harder to get away with being a demagogue and a pettifogger than it used to be — the people are becoming fairly well informed. It is dynamite to try it on an audience which knows more about the subject than the demagogue, which surely must have been the case when Sen. Hubert Humphrey talked in Eugene, Ore., on the subject of forestry.

The average man on the street in Eugene, or Springfield, or Tacoma, or Raymond, or Aberdeen knows more about forestation and forest products than Sen. Humphrey. The senator just about proved that in his talk. And he's supposed to be running for president!

He said natural resources development, including that of our forests, has been neglected for seven years under the Republicans, that our nation is living in the past and likely to become a seared, overgrazed and deforested place like the middle east countries. He said forest output must be increased 50 per cent in the next 50 years, but that forests "do not grow up over night." He said it is tragic that watershed is not being planted. That might get votes somewhere, but not in Eugene.

You see, the senator took his figures out of a book, "Timber Resources for America's Future," published by the U. S. forest service. He must have looked only into a few pages of the volume, hurriedly, for a careful reading would have shown him that American softwood forest are growing faster and faster, more products are being produced from a tree than formerly, that 3,750,000 acres are being replanted this year, and that in percentage of productivity, private timber companies have a better record than public agencies such as the national forests. The relation of timber growths to timber cutting is strong and getting stronger.

If the senator had look around a little farther, he could have learned that there are 50 million acres in tree farms in this country. The day of his talk there was a story in the papers about the hundred million seedling being set out on one of these farms, the St. Regis farm at Wilkeson, Wash.

The senator has his name on a federal bill (the wilderness area bill) which would remove the same amount of land from production as he says must be added in 50 years.

We hope the Eugene case is not typical of the senator's knowledge and willingness to research the truth. If it is, he'll make a poor president.

State Budget Fight Ends—Until Next Fall

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Madison — The state budget fight, unreal and dreary as it was for the most part, has been concluded for a few months. The truce that was arranged between the Republicans and the Democrats after five weeks of wrangling is probably as little understood as the differences that divided the parties during the long harangues.

As far as this correspondent can discern, both parties were playing to an empty house, with respect to public attention or understanding. The technicalities of a budget are difficult enough at any time — and make space in the papers out of a sense of duty on the part of reporters and editors rather than out of any conviction about their readability.

But this was a particularly hollow fight, since it was conceded throughout that it was only a matter of form. The whole budget business will be resumed by the governor and his staff with the recess of the legislature. The final spending decisions are yet to be made. The governor will propose a final fiscal program and the legislature will dispose of it in the fall session, yet months distant.

the fact too that the captain of the insistent Republican team, Sen. W. A. Draheim of Neenah, actually believes in a one year budget system. His difference with the Democrats is that he wants the existing laws upheld to the letter, until they are changed, to install a one year budgeting system.

CHARACTER
The political positions of the parties with respect to the spending program, simultaneously, have become so blurred that it is a fair guess that nobody is going to make any political hay.

The Republicans have favored the role of the taxpayer's friend.

But the Democrats may have got the better of them in a propaganda sense. They have deliberately donned the garments of the economizers too, at least in their public statements. Witness the repeated talk about "bare bones" etc.

Whether the Democratic budget is as careful as its authors would have the tax-conscious public believe is quite another thing.

The reaction of the spending agencies here is probably a good guide. They have been suspiciously content to accept the governor's figures. If this was a rigorous budget, there would be some howls ringing through the legislative corridors.

Gov. Nelson's publicity men carefully relate that he recommended appropriations $13,000,000 below requests. They don't emphasize the increase in fact over existing levels of disbursement. All governors write budgets below requests. The governor who doesn't or cannot prune the demands of the hungry bureaucracy probably should be impeached on a charge of naivete.

Nelson Effected Compromise for New Department

From The Racine Journal-Times
Gov. Nelson has effected a neat compromise with the legislature in the operation of the new department of administration. Its chief, entitled commissioner, will be directly responsible to the governor, appointed by him and serving at his pleasure. But the old emergency board, made up of the governor and two members of the legislature, which was mainly concerned with emergency appropriations, will be replaced by a seven-man board of government operations, dropping the governor and made up entirely of legislators. It will make a continuing investigation of government operations and review the programs of the department of administration. By giving a little and taking a little, Gov. Nelson would achieve a measure of both executive and legislative control of the new department.

The first effect of the reorganization bill would be greatly increased administrative and financial efficiency (the governor's experts estimate an annual saving of $750,000) in state government. But the important, long-range effect will be a big step toward a better balance in Wisconsin government at the state level, and a significant example of balanced government for local agencies.

City Planners Approve Two Tentative Plats

Two tentative plats were recommended Monday by the planning commission for city council approval tonight.

Rolling Acres, a 24-lot layout owned by Joseph Doerfler is at the southeast corner of Hoover avenue extended and S. Jackson street. Some 11 acres in the plat have been purchased by the city for a combination park and baseball diamond. The lots are arranged around the park in an L-shape.

Doerfler - Gehrke contains about 81 lots between Drew and Meade streets and extends from unplatted lands north to Highway 41. The extensions of Drew, Union and Greenfield streets are provided. So is a 30-foot east-west service road on the south side of the highway.

Planners told Lloyd Doerfler, one of the owners, that they will zone the lots abutting the service road to commercial and light manufacturing district; the next row south multiple family district; the next row 2-family district; and the rest single family. This would put lots in that order facing Meade street, but nothing can be done about it, the planners said.

Committee Irritated With School Board

Want Reasons Why Additions Can't Be Built on Wilson, Roosevelt Plants

The city council's school advisory committee is dissatisfied with the school board's explanation of why additions cannot be erected to the Wilson and Roosevelt Junior High schools.

Committee feelings on additions to both junior highs were not unanimous. At least one committeeman said he believes the school board is right about avoiding additions to Roosevelt school.

Another committeeman said there is little use in discussing additions. "The school board has said it won't and that's that."

But, still another committeeman pointed out the city council furnishes the money for school construction and that ought to be enough to force the issue.

New Council Don't do what the school board wants, it was said, and there will be a new council the next time around.

This caused one committeeman to observe that he believes just as many people would support enlargement of the junior highs as would oppose. He cited what he termed the obvious presence of enough land for an addition to Wilson. "And the boiler is big enough to handle an addition," it was said.

The discussion boiled down to whether additions would stall a new school three or four years or some appreciable time.

"That's it," said one committeeman, "we don't know. The school board hasn't explored all possibilities, so we don't know. I think we ought to get the answers so all the people can know whether advisory committee is dissatisfied with the school board's explanation of why additions cannot be erected to the Wilson and Roosevelt Junior High schools.

The discussion came as the committee noted a school board request for the council to buy sites for two more schools, one for a junior high school on the north side, and the other for an elementary school on the southeast corner.

Committeemen were critical of the school board because the recommendations did not include the asking price or who to contact to negotiate. One committeeman said the problem was the council committee's, not the school board's. Previous committee treatment of site requests was so shabby, he indicated, you could hardly expect more.

However, it was agreed Chairman Alvin E. Tews would seek a meeting with the school board to discuss the sites and the asking prices.

Locations The north junior high site recommended by the board is the Elvy C. Lillge property, about 20 acres, on N. Morrison street an undetermined distance north of Highway 41. The elementary school site is on the south edge of the Schaefer plat, near Clara street. It is part of the Whitman farm.

The school board has said it will need the junior high by 1962, but has set no date on when it will need the southeast side elementary school.

Ald. Thomas K. Schneider originally urged the board to investigate obtaining the elementary school site in light of expected growth in the area after the high level bridge is open.

Egypt Approves Aswan Dam Plan

Cairo, Egypt — Egyptian authorities have approved final plans proposed by Soviet experts for the Aswan high dam on the Nile, Egyptian newspaper said Monday.

Changes proposed by the Russians will reduce the cost of the first stage of the project nearly $17 million, it was said. Approval of the plans could mean construction might start next winter.

A joint Soviet-Egyptian committee has been formed to supervise construction with Hassan Zaki, an Egyptian engineer, as chairman, and Soviet Engineer Ivan V. Komzin as vice chairman. Russia has agreed to lend 400 million rubles ($100 million at Russia's official rate of exchange) for the first stage of the giant power and irrigation project.

North Central Began in 1939 In Clintonville

Just Acquired 5
New Convair Planes,
Serving 65 Cities

North Central airlines, which has just acquired five new Convair planes, had a modest beginning in 1939 in Clintonville, when the FWD company purchased a small airplane for use by its executives.

The men found it inconvenient to travel from Clintonville to Chicago and back by train, so the plane was used.

Francis Higgins, the company's advertising director, was put in charge of the plane's operation. Soon, however, Clintonville businessmen were asking if they could ride to Chicago and other places, and when room was available they were accommodated.

Before long, more planes were added and Higgins found himself in charge of a small airline that flew on average of 120,000 miles a year.

In 1946, the Civil Aeronautics board issued a commercial airline certificate to FWD's offspring, when it was found that the system could be economically self-supporting.

The auto company had to dispose of its stock in the airline, which was then a separate corporation known as Wisconsin Central Airlines. Higgins left FWD to remain the airline's director.

Operations under the certificate started in February, 1948, after sufficient evidence was shown that airports in the area were suitable for the company's planes.

Had No Money
The first problem facing Higgins and his staff was a big one—they had no money. The executives made the rounds of all certified cities and started selling stock in the company. In one place, Higgins said, he ran out of stock certificates and made out the shares on paper napkins for a lineup of eager buyers.

Later, after being underwritten by a Milwaukee firm, the airline ended up with $354,000, about a third of what was needed for secure operations. But the men went ahead. The first year they lost money, but in 1949 they ended up in the black.

Mail Service

By this time, the six Lockheed Electras were flying 175,000 miles a month, carrying over 4,600 passengers. The routes served 16 cities from Chicago and Milwaukee north to Minneapolis, Duluth and Hibbing. Minn. Green Bay and Oshkosh also were on the schedule.

Mail service was an important source of income, worth nearly a million dollars in 1949.

In November, 1952, the company changed its headquarters from Madison, where it operated from an air force installation, to Minneapolis. A month later, the name was changed to North Central Airlines to indicate the wider area it was serving.

In place of the uncomfortable Lockheeds, the line bought DC-3 transports, and in 1953 operated 32 of them. This year, the company purchased five twin-engined Convair 340 planes, which can carry 44 passengers. Eventually Convairs may replace all of the DC-3 planes.

Howard A. Morey, Madison, a pioneer in Wisconsin aviation and chairman of the Wisconsin aeronautics commission, took over as president Jan. 1, 1953.

New President
In April, 1954, Hal N. Carr became president of the line after it was less than 30 days away from filing bankruptcy. He has remained as president until today.

Carr had been executive vice president and director of the airline from 1947 to 1952, after four years on the Trans World Airlines executive staff. He left Wisconsin Central to join McKinsey and company, New York management consultants.

In 1957, North Central inaugurated nonstop service between the Twin ports of Duluth-Superior and Chicago. Next year, the CAB made its largest single award in the company's history. This order extended North Central's service west to Rapid City, S. D., and north to Minot, N. D., authorizing the airline to serve 18 new cities.

Operations were inaugurated to 11 of these Minnesota and Dakota communities in March, 1959, increasing the system to 4,976 route miles and 65 cities in nine states.

Increases in the airline's personnel also reflect the company's growth. Beginning with 112 employees in 1948, today, North Central has 1600 employees, including 280 pilots and more than 150 stewardesses.

In 1954, stewardesses were added to the system, replacing male stewards, as part of a program to improve direct service to the traveling public. North Central is the only scheduled airline which requires its stewardesses to complete a standard Red Cross first aid course.

Today, North Central leads the 12 other local service airlines in volume of passengers, air mail and air express by a wide margin. In 1958, enplaned passengers totaled 777,140 — 59 per cent ahead of the second-place local carrier. The 2,900,313 pounds of air mail carried surpassed the next highest local airline by 70 per cent, while air express in 1958 totaled 5,319,428 pounds, for an 89 per cent lead over the second-place local.

The airline has also applied for nearly 1,100 miles of helicopter routes to 37 points in the metropolitan areas of the system.

City to Explore Idea For Two Swim Pools

Cost for One Adequate Facility Biggest Question, Planners Say

The possibility of building the school board in construction of two swimming pools, one at the already-designated Interlake park and another somewhere on the west side, will be explored by the south side pool planners.

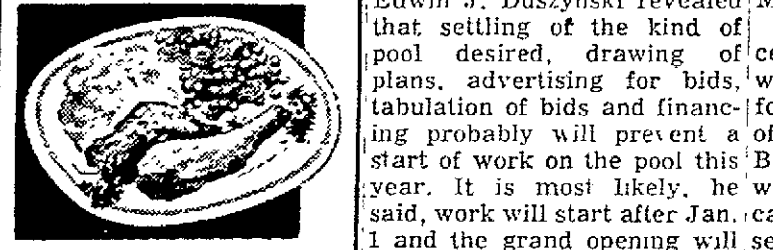

Members of the board of public works and the special council swimming pool committee, who constitute the pool planners, Tuesday agreed to the idea as advanced by Ald. R. P. Groh.

Groh put his idea in the form of a question: Will it be possible to build an adequate pool at Interlake for $125,000 or so and use the rest of the presently estimated $250,000 construction cost to build another pool, probably in the northwest corner of the city or the west central area?

Cites Example
Groh said the council faces a challenge not to build a monument since it has continually made that charge of

Pick Chicago Firm As Consultant on South Side Pool

Ralph H. Burke, Inc., Chicago engineering and architectural firm, Tuesday was selected to plan the proposed swimming pool at the nearly 7.5-acre Interlake park.

City councilmen will vote tonight on the recommendation by the combined board of public works and special council swimming pool committee.

The corporation would receive 6.5 per cent of total cost as a fee if the total cost is less than the $250,000 estimate.

Burke, which was picked from about 25 firms submitting proposals to the works board, said it will need five to six weeks to draw plans once the city makes up its mind what kind of pool it wants.

Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski revealed that settling of the kind of pool desired, drawing of plans, advertising for bids, tabulation of bids and financing probably will prevent a start of work on the pool this year. It is most likely, he said, work will start after Jan. 1 and the grand opening will come in 1961.

They also cited discontinuance of the 10:40 a. m. stop, northbound to Green Bay, which they said will result in curtailment of service to both upper and lower Michigan, northern Wisconsin and Minneapolis, making connecting flights at Green Bay impossible.

"Continually expanding air traffic at Winnebago county airport has justified the continuation of all existing service by North Central, and will ultimately warrant extension of such service rather than curtailment. Winnebago county has continually improved and expanded its facilities for modern air travel over a period of many years, and is continuing to do so.

Baby Girl Dies In Basket in Family's Car

Gail Anne Reynebeau, aged two months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Reynebeau, 820 S. Buchanan street, Little Chute, died of natural causes in a baby huggy basket in the rear of her parents' car about 9 p. m. Tuesday.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said death was due either to a congenital heart defect or an acute respiratory infection.

Mrs. Reynebeau said she placed the baby in the rear of the car when she went to visit relatives in Appleton and Hortonville. She called a doctor upon returning home when she noticed the child's face had become extremely pale when she was going to take the infant out of the car.

She was born April 18, 1959, in Little Chute. There will be a graveside service at St. John Catholic cemetery, Little Chute, at 11 a. m. Thursday. Verkuilen funeral home, Little Chute, handled the arrangements.

Besides her parents, she is survived by two sisters, Sherrie Kaye and Becky Lynn, both at home, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Reynebeau, Little Chute, and Mrs. Cecilia Stadler, Appleton. A great grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth O'Darski, Kaukauna, also survives.

Two Drunken Drivers Fined

Lawrence Eppinger, Douglas Laux Lose Right to Drive

Douglas R. Laux, 22, route 3, Appleton, was fined $150 and his license was revoked for one year in municipal court today for drunken driving.

Laux was arrested by Outagamie county police Aug. 24, 1958, on Highway 47 in the town of Grand Chute after he hit a car driven by Warren Beaster, route 1, Neenah.

Beaster and his wife received cuts and bruises. Mrs. Beaster is under treatment by a physician, her husband said.

Lawrence K. Eppinger, 44, route 3, Kaukauna, was fined $100 and his license was revoked for one year in municipal court Tuesday for drunken driving.

He was arrested by Outagamie police on Highway 55 in the town of Vandenberg Dec. 7 after he was seen driving erratically.

Both men refused to take a drunkometer test. Laux's attorney has appealed the decision.

Dame, an Appleton shoe salesman and fire and police commission member, and Col. Charles W. Gallaher, Lawton, Okla., who plans to visit a brother in St. Paul after visiting Fox Cities relatives.

Disgruntled airlines officials scanned the skies anxiously all morning waiting until the last minute to make their decision. Several airline vice presidents were in the Fox Cities to greet the plane. They left by auto for Milwaukee after the flight cancellation.

Mail to have gone out on the first flight will have to wait for a day. Several thousand letters were cancelled, specially for the inaugural flight by the Appleton post office.

Color Guard
Members of the color guard scheduled to greet the plane stood by with the flags sheathed, waiting for the decision.

Officials were uncertain this noon if today's ceremonies would be rescheduled for Thursday.

Airlines officials did not appear unhappy about the weather. The huge crowd which gathered despite the weather pleased them and, when they looked skyward attempting to see the plane on its way to Clintonville, they were smiling.

The first flight to land in the Fox Cities probably will be flight 245, landing at the port at 11:04 a. m. Thursday. It will follow the scheduled flight pattern, if weather permits.

Flight 245 will leave Chicago at 9:30 a. m. daily, including Sunday, going to Milwaukee, Appleton, Clintonville, Stevens Point, Eau Claire and Minneapolis, arriving at 1:29 p. m.

Formerly the flight stopped at Manitowoc and Green Bay, skirting Appleton. The southbound flight will originate in Minneapolis at 10:30 a. m., arrive in Appleton at 12:54 p. m. and in Chicago at 2:23 p. m.

The Fox Cities have had some similar experiences in the past — the first airmail flight in the 20s arrived in a soupy fog and rain, and the 1953 airport dedication was another rainy day, with a North Central plane delayed several hours because of it.

One Thing Leads To Another in Auto Accident

One thing led to another in an auto accident at Washington and Superior streets Tuesday afternoon.

A car driven by John Dickermann, 68, route 2, Menasha, collided with an auto driven by Gerhardt Ahl, 44, 213 N. Linwood avenue, as Dickermann made a right turn from Superior to Washington.

Ahl's car hit a parked car owned by Raymond Meyer, 28, 1424 E. Candee street, and Meyer's car smashed into a parked car in front of it, owned by Wallace W. Widmar, 38, Box 456, Menasha.

Police charged Dickermann with failure to have his car under control.

Four Injured In Auto Crash

Four people were injured in a two-car collision 2 1/2 miles south of Black Creek on Highway 47 Tuesday.

Injured were Carlton Wickesberg, 40, route 2, Black Creek, driver of one of the cars; his son, Stephen, 11, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Nabbefeld, 22 N. Sherman place, all with neck and shoulder injuries. They were taken to Appleton Memorial hospital by Larry's ambulance. All were released, except Mrs. Nabbefeld who was to undergo X-rays today.

Wickesberg said he was about to make a turn when his auto was struck by the Nabbefeld car.

Post-War Trend Instrument Sales Up In Appleton, Nation

phonograph to make their own music.

Nationally, piano sales have reportedly zoomed 33 per cent above last year, helping boost instrument and music sales over the $500 million dollar mark for the first time in the nation's history.

And what's happening nationally is also happening locally. Instrument salesmen say that Fox Cities residents have never bought so many pianos.

Report Increases

One large dealer reports piano sales generally have been good for several years. He foresees a 1 or 2 per cent increase over 1958. Several smaller dealers report sales increases from 5 to 33 per cent over 1958, very close to the so-called national average.

Organ sales, too, have gone up proportionately—nearly 10 per cent. Dealers say that people like the variety of tone an organ produces, and that the whole family finds an organ fun.

A similar boom has been noted in the school instrument field. In 1951, approximately 350 Appleton grade and high school children sawed, tooted

Lifeguard Hours Given for Pool

Little Chute — The schedule for lifeguard duty has been announced for the Doyle park pool.

Lifeguards are on duty from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily except Sunday. The Sunday hours are 1 to 5 p.m. only. Parents were asked to note the Sunday hours so they would not send youngsters to the pool when they would not be supervised.

Recreation director Bill Fitzpatrick announced that there would be no lifeguards on duty Saturday, July 4, because of the holiday. All playgrounds facilities will be closed that day.

and pounded on band instruments. Today, the total is 1050.

Frank Comella, head of instrumental music, claims that the enrollment is not phenomenal. "It's only average," he insists, "when 10 per cent of the student body is enrolled in a music program."

Comella guesses that students and parents have become more interested in music, partly because of television and their constant exposure to things musical, be they good or bad.

Next year, even more students will participate, because the string program will include about 175 fifth graders and James Madison school's program will add about 58. Both of the programs are new.

Parochial schools also have helped the boom. An Appleton instrument salesman estimates 300 parochial students now own instruments. But he complains that only 1 per cent of the adult non-playing population will learn to play the piano or organ.

Your Problems

Dad Blows Stack After Hearing Suitor's Chiseling Methods

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN: My boy friend is 21 and in college. He's attending summer session to get his degree in three years. I'm real proud of Al.

As you know, Ann, fellow college fellows don't have much money to toss around, so we've worked Ann Landers out a money-saving system. He calls me on the phone, lets it ring twice then hangs up. I call him back and of course the dime is returned to him.

My dad caught on to this signal last night and blew his stack. He wouldn't let me call Al back and said he was a cheap chiseler to try to beat the phone company out of a dime. The more he talked the madder he got. Finally he said Al probably has a crooked streak that might land him in jail.

He didn't ask me to stop seeing Al, but intimidated I could do a lot better. I like Al a lot, and now I'm all confused. Please tell me what to do. —Betty

Dear Betty: Right is right and wrong is wrong. And chiseling the phone company out of dimes is wrong. Al apparently doesn't see it this way because he's been reared in an era of compromised morals and petty chiseling. A lot of people, these days, think it's O.K. to try to outsmart the government, pad the company's expense account, and put one over on the train conductor.

Your dad is being a bit too tough in suggesting you break up with Al over this. Simply tell Al that the signal system is not to be used in the future then set up a specific time for you to phone him. And, incidentally, tell your dad Diogenes is looking for him.

DEAR ANN: I'm writing about my 13-year-old niece. Her parents permit her to take baby-sitting jobs in the apartment building. I think she's too young to be given the complete responsibility of attending to small children when their folks are away.

I don't want to butt into their family business, but I feel the child's parents should be set straight. May I have your opinion, Ann? Shall I tell them or not? —Aunt Kitty

Dear Aunt Kitty: Obviously the girl's parents feel she's capable of handling the responsibility and the folks who hire the young lady must have confidence in her, too. I can't see that you fit into this picture at all.

Some girls at 13 are reliable and highly competent. Other girls at 13 are babies and they need sitters to sit with them.

DEAR ANN: A widow who signed herself "Lillian" wrote to you because she wanted to wise up other widows who were considering marrying men they didn't know much about.

It seems to me that Lillian is a poor one to give advice because she went with this man over three months then got stung herself. I'm a widow, too, and many well-meaning friends are always trying to find a man for me. This is what I learned in one evening:

(1) He had a bad heart and was afraid to drive a car for fear he's have an attack at the wheel.

(2) He didn't like sports, even to watch. Fishing he said was "too messy." Bowling was too "noisy."

(3) He thought any man past 40 was a fool to get married when he could hire a housekeeper and come and go as he pleased.

That's all I needed to hear. I knew then the man was not for me. Why waste three months on a man when you can learn the important things in one evening? —W.D.

Dear W.D.: If you can "solve 'em" in one evening you're pretty good — and lucky, too. More power to you.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for Ann Landers' booklet, "What to Expect from Marriage," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.) (Copyright, 1959)

Our Children

Touch of a Hand Gives Child Support

BY ANGELO PATRI

Among the many ideas a baby gathers is the power his hands lend him and the secure support his mother's hands give him. As long as he lives, this feeling of support and security that is born of the touch of his hand on something outside himself will stay with him and help him to feel secure and strong. It is as though he had a hand hold on life itself.

In training and teaching children we do not make enough of this powerful influence for growth toward steadiness of thought and courageous behavior. If we remember that a child feels surer and braver when he has hold of something and see that he has it when he needs it we will get further with him and with less difficulty.

Many children are timid about new experiences with things and people. That is natural but it needs to be overcome. If a child fears touching fur for example, will not touch a furry toy, we must not force him to do so but show him by holding it ourselves that it is harmless. Once he puts a shaky finger on the thing he has made a big step toward conquering his dread and very soon afterward he will take it, hold it and so have that precious hand hold not only on the furry toy but on his fear. His hand gave him strength. Pre-adolescent children, ing. If you would like to have both boys and girls, are likely his leaflet, P-27, "Pilfering."

to go through a painful period of shyness when they dread speaking to or meeting a person outside the family. Again forcing this will not help but will more than likely make a bad matter worse.

We want children to meet people easily but that is something that must be learned by first-hand experience. The child has to force down his dread and for this he needs help. When a mother says,

"Now you run over to Mrs. Birdie and ask her if she would please give you the recipe for buns she thought I would like," and the boys or girl essays, "O, I don't want to do that. She'll think it's funny to ask her," he is dreading the whole idea. Instead of arguing with him write a note and let him carry it to Mrs. Birdie. Telephone ahead that he is coming so she can help. His reception will ease him for next time and the note in his hand will support him on his fear-filled way.

This supporting hand - hold means everything to a child at this stage of development and it will continue to mean a great deal all through his life. We should think about this and whenever possible call a child's hands into service for his physical, mental and moral growth. Well-trained hands are a source of power, an outlet for intelligent thought, a basis for mental and physical security.

Angelo Patri offers readers ry toy but on his fear. His hand gave him strength. Pre-adolescent children, ing. If you would like to have both boys and girls, are likely his leaflet, P-27, "Pilfering."

Betrothal Gift Should Be Returned

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: The other day I received a telephone call from a friend of mine telling me that she had broken her engagement and asked me what I wanted her to do with the engagement present I had given her. The present I had given her was quite a lovely one and something which I myself could have used very nicely, but I was too embarrassed to say so. In a case of this kind, shouldn't the presents be returned without consulting the givers? Also, would it have been wrong to tell her that I would like the present returned to me?

Answer: I agree with you that the question puts the giver in an embarrassing position and therefore presents should be returned without consulting the givers. However, it would have been entirely proper to have said you regretted the situation but that as it does exist, you would like to have the gift returned to you.

Anniversary Present

Dear Mrs. Post: There will be a twenty-fifth wedding anniversary in our family soon and I would like to know if only gifts of silver should be given on this occasion, or would it be proper to give something different. We had in mind a beautiful wall clock for the living room. Would this be all right?

Answer: The usual and most correct gift for the twenty-fifth anniversary is something of silver, but if you have reason to think the couple would like to have the wall clock, by all means get it for them.

One of Family

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct salutation to use when writing thank-you notes to relatives of my fiancé who sent me presents. Some of them are complete strangers and others I have met on one occasion. Do I begin "Dear Mrs. Jones" or "Dear Aunt Margaret"?

Answer: "Dear Aunt Margaret," or whatever it is that your fiancé calls them.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her booklet No. 504, entitled, "Etiquette of Table Setting," send 25 cents in coin to Dept. E. P. care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 99, Station G New York 19, N.Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Wastes Headache for Paper, Atom Industry

Poisonous waste released in the atmosphere by generation of electricity through nuclear fission is a problem to the waste disposal problem of the paper industry, Prof. Malcolm Dole said Tuesday afternoon at the Institute of Paper Chemistry.

If nuclear reaction is used to produce enough electricity for the United States, the poisonous byproduct would be equivalent to 8,000,000 atomic bombs, he said. Dole, of Northwestern university's chemistry department in the technological institute, commenting, "Use of electricity in the U. S. doubles every eight years. At this rate we will reach a point where all electricity generation means will be used up." Within a few decades, coal, our main source, will be in short supply, he added.

Dole showed the lower cost of coal power production over the years, despite rising costs in other fields. In the period between 1955 and 1980 our coal generation will rise, he said, because of lack of coal, nuclear power for generation of electricity will be necessary, he said.

England is now using nuclear reactors to produce electricity and by 1968 will have enough reactors to produce 6,000,000 kilowatts of electricity or one twentieth U. S. capacity today, he said. This will save England 18,000,000 tons of coal a year, Dole added.

Uranium ores are 10 to 100 times more plentiful than coal, but won't last forever, the professor added. New methods must be devised, he declared.

Cannot Say

"I cannot say whether this is practical or predictable," he said.

Other applications of nuclear reaction to industry would be to use atomic bombs as explosives. They can be used to break up ores and move earth for harbors.

Install All Power Boat Limit Signs

Water Skiing Ban In Channel Off Turner's Point

Menasha — Installation of boat speed limit signs in the Menasha channel of the Fox river and the government canal was completed Tuesday, City Engineer M. J. Noth said today.

Largest sign reminding power boaters of the 6 m. p. h. speed limit is at Turner's Point at the south edge of the channel near Lake Winnebago. Water skiing inside the river channel is prohibited, the sign says.

Another sign west of George A. Whiting Paper company will remind boaters entering the channel from the west end through the government locks.

Two small signs are at the Tayco street bridge.

Noth said the warning signs, placed by the street department, aim at greater safety by preventing smaller craft from being swamped and at preventing damage to shorelines and moored boats from wakes left by fast-moving boats.

Water skiing inside the channel, which is inside the city limits, is prohibited by the city because boats towing skiers must exceed the 6 m. p. h. speed limit for the skis to skim atop the water.

Purse Taken From Car at Winneconne

Oshkosh — LaVerne Vandike, 311 Dixon street, Kaukauna, reported to the sheriff's department that her purse and another belonging to a friend had been stolen from their parked car on Main street in Winneconne Tuesday night.

She said they had gone for a boat ride about 10 p.m. and when they returned about midnight the small wicker basket-type purse, which she left on the front seat, was missing. Her wallet contained $15 to $20 in bills and a $296 check. A key case, compact, car registration and driver's license also were in the purse.

Police Report Finding Doe's Body in River

Menasha — City police reported today that a 70-pound doe's body was found Saturday floating in the Fox river off Jefferson park. State conservation department personnel from Oshkosh, who examined the carcass, found no bullet holes or evidence of illegal kill. They surmised the doe must have tried to swim, became exhausted and drowned.

POST CRESCENT News of the Twin Cities Menasha - Neenah

Commission Balks At Press Coverage; Adjourns Meeting

Informers Reporter Session Closed; Statutes Not Specific on Rule

Menasha — The Neenah-Menasha Sewerage commission, objecting to the presence of a Post-Crescent reporter, Tuesday night opened one bid on furnishing capacitors for the sewage plant and abruptly adjourned.

Commission President William H. Clifford, Neenah, told Reporter John Morgan the meeting was closed and asked the newsman to leave. When Morgan refused, Clifford threatened to call a policeman and have him removed. Clifford said the commission only releases its meeting minutes to the city councils of Neenah and Menasha after approval by the commission at its next meeting. (The April 22 minutes were submitted for reading at the Menasha council's June 2 session).

When Morgan told the commission president to go ahead and call a policeman, Clifford opened the only bid on the capacitors, offered by Keil and Werner Electric company at $1,150 each, and called for adjournment.

No action was taken on the bid.

Won't Discuss Use

Clifford refused to discuss use of the capacitors and told the reporter Arnold Sorenson, sewage plant superintendent, also would not discuss the matter.

Clifford told Morgan "we do not permit our business to be published before the minutes are approved and sent to the council. Therefore, we will not have the press present. I am not going to give you the information."

His stand was echoed by three of four other commission members present—Atty. Melvin F. Crowley, J. J. Liebhauser and Fred D. Holmbeck, all of Menasha. Nyle Austin, Neenah, attending his first meeting, did not comment. The fifth member, Edward DenDooen, Neenah, was out of the city.

State Statutes

Section 59.96 of the Wisconsin statutes, covering metropolitan sewage commissions, provides they "... shall hold meetings for the transaction of business. All sessions or meetings of said commission shall be public and all records shall be public records."

Section 144.07 of the Wisconsin statutes dealing with joint sewage commissions, says nothing about conducting meetings and maintaining records.

Crowley said only one metropolitan sewage commission—in the Milwaukee area—operates in the state and that Neenah and Menasha are covered by section 144.07 of the statutes.

Morgan insisted he was entitled to cover the meeting, contending the plant's operation and ownership is public business.

Two Sections Hy. 114 to be Resurfaced

Areas East of Menasha, West of Neenah Included

Oshkosh — Two resurfacing projects in the Neenah-Menasha area have been approved by the state, Leon Morrissey, county highway commissioner said today.

A 2-inch blacktop surface will be laid over Highway 114 in the town of Menasha to cover over a rough section of concrete. This project will be for 1.2 miles and will be done by the Reliance Construction company.

This company is now doing the resurfacing of Highway 10 in Calumet county and the Highway 114 project will be an extension on that contract.

West of Hy. 41

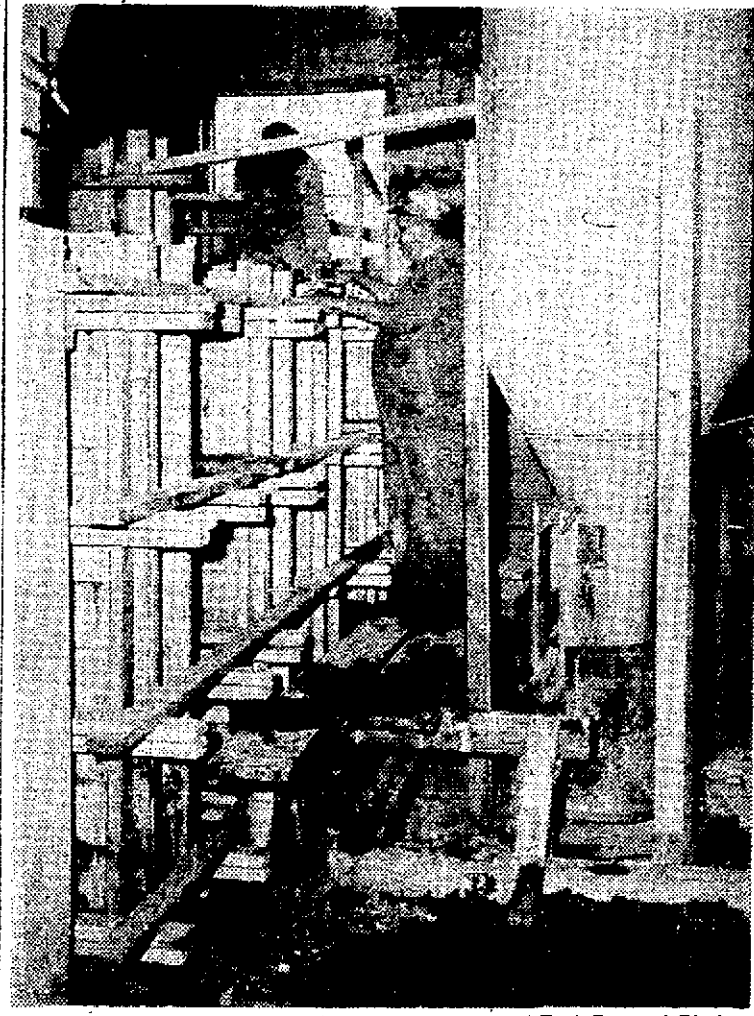

The other section to be resurfaced is a three-fourths of a mile section on Highway 114 west of Highway 41. The section to be resurfaced is from a half-mile west of Tullar road west to the Wooden Shoe road.

This also will be a 1-course aggregate blacktop mat to cover over a rough section of concrete. It will be done by the Schuster Construction company of Green Bay which has the Highway 41 contract.

Treasurer's Office

Open Thursday Night

Neenah — The city treasurer's office will be open from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Thursday instead of Friday for the payment of water bills and taxes. Treas. Walter H. Loehning announced today. The change was made because of the July 4 holiday.

Post-Crescent Photos

Work Goes on at Bergstrom Paper company in Neenah although the plant is shut down for the annual employe vacations. This period is used for major maintenance projects such as rebuilding the conveyor belt which feeds waste into a hydro pulper, being inspected at top by Wayne Braun, electrician, Kenneth Voiss, maintenance engineer, and Clyde Arndt, millwright foreman, and relocating the Johnson screen and installing a new cylinder type stockwasher, requiring additional supporting piers which are being prepared by Len Seelow, left, and Nyal Voigt, maintenance leadman, in the picture above.

Youth Arrested on 3 Charges After Crash In Winneconne Town

Oshkosh — A 15-year old Neenah youth will be charged with operating an auto without the owner's consent, driving without a license and an arterial violation as the result of an accident Tuesday afternoon in the town of Winneconne.

The car and one driven by Edward P. Ferg, 56, Manawa, collided on Highway 110 and County Trunk G. Ferg's wife, Celia, was taken to Mercy hospital in a squad car with undetermined injuries.

Ferg, traveling south on Highway 110, said the other vehicle did not stop at the arterial. The youthful driver said the brakes did not hold. He and a 15-year old passenger were unhurt.

Make Changes in Archery Program

Menasha — Ken Wolfe of Menasha has been assigned as Menasha Recreation department archery instructor to the illness of Archie Koerner.

The change has necessitated different hours on Wednesday. Those scheduled for the 9 a.m. class are changed to 1 p.m.; those at 10 a.m., at 1:50 p.m.; and those at 11 a.m., at 2:40 p.m. The Friday afternoon instruction will keep the same hours.

Union Claims Firm Violated State Law

Charges Kiekhaefer Corporation With Not Mentioning Strike in Advertisements

Oshkosh — Misdemeanor charges contending violation of state law in advertisements of the Kiekhaefer corporation's aeromachine division have been asked by officials of the International Association of Machinists from both Winnebago and Fond du Lac county courts.

Gilbert C. Brunner, Waukegan, representative of the grand lodge, asked the municipal court action in both counties but up to this noon had not signed the formal complaint charge which had been prepared at his request for the Winnebago county action.

The union contends the company violated state law by not including in several of its advertisements a statement to the effect that a strike was in progress at its Oshkosh and Fond du Lac plants.

Later advertisements include a statement to the effect that some of the employees are on strike but that production still is in progress.

The two plants employ about 700 persons in the manufacture of outboard motors at the two plants. Mediation of the dispute was attempted last Friday but no progress was reported.

Council to Meet

Menasha — Mayor R. G. DuCharme has called a special meeting of the city council for tonight in the council chambers above the fire station. He said the meeting was called because of an accumulation of business since the last session. Its next regular meeting will be July 7.

St. Mary High Band To March Saturday In Hilbert Parade

Menasha — St. Mary High school band will play and march in the July 4 parade at Hilbert. Members are to meet at 9 a.m. at the high school here to meet the transportation.

The band will rehearse at 7 p.m. today in the school to prepare for the parade. Two French horn players—Ellen Clouse and Carol Hackl—are attending a summer music seminar at the University of Wisconsin. They will be seniors next fall.

Arrested May 26, Driver Changes Plea

Menasha — Donald P. Brown, 19, 818 Jean street, Neenah, today changed his plea to guilty on a charge of failing to heed a red light May 26.

Brown was fined $2 and costs today by Police Justice Arthur J. Ales. Brown pleaded innocent May 27 at his arraignment before Ales.

Neenah — Firemen were called to the Donald E. Hassler home, 634 Main street, at 10:55 this morning when gasoline being used by Peter Hassler, 16, to clean bicycle parts in the basement exploded.

The basement and house filled with smoke and smoke ejectors were used to clear the house. The son was not hurt by the explosion.

Can, Freeze Garden Peas At Peak of Their Goodness

Oshkosh — Fresh garden peas should be canned or frozen at the peak of their goodness. Mrs. Tim Broder, route 2, Omro, uses the hot pack method for canning the vegetable.

First shell and wash the peas. Cover with boiling water. Bring to boil. Pack hot peas loosely to one inch of the top of the container. Add one-half teaspoon salt to a pint, one teaspoon to a quart. Cover with boiling water, leaving one-inch space at top of jar. Adjust jar lids. Process in a pressure cooker at 10 pounds pressure for 40 minutes. Complete seal if closure is not of self-sealing type after jars are removed from processing.

If you plan to can vegetables this summer, the cold pack method is simple and easy to use. Cutting up vegetables and packing them directly into clean jars saves time and fuss of preheating. But be sure to follow the correct method and processing time.

Cut the vegetable into desired size and pack into the jar. You will want to take the usual care in choosing jars for canning. Check the edges for nicks and cracks. Wash jars in hot water and suds, rinse. Be sure to have a supply of new lids on hand.

In order to get a good pack of vegetables, shake the jar from time to time as you fill it. Leave a half-inch head space. For a pint jar, add one-half teaspoon salt. Fill with boiling water to one-half inch of the top and seal the jar. Then follow directions for processing according to the vegetable being canned.

Judge Delays 1st Hearing Lawyer for Negro On Murder Charge Asks Adjournment

Milwaukee — A preliminary hearing for John J. Watson, 37-year-old Milwaukee Negro charged with first degree murder in the rape slaying of Mrs. Edna Mauch, was adjourned Tuesday until July 20 by Dist. Judge Robert W. Hansen.

Hansen granted the delay at the request of Robert J. Beaudry, attorney for Watson. Beaudry said he wanted time to confer with his client.

However, Judge Hansen denied Beaudry's request that Watson be kept in the Milwaukee county jail during the interim period instead of being returned to the Wisconsin State prison at Waupun where he is serving a one to 35-year term for rape of a 15-year-old girl.

Mrs. Mauch, 57, a white woman of suburban Wauwatosa, was raped and bludgeoned to death in the bedroom of her home the morning of Aug. 9, 1958, as her husband slept in another room.

Watson told newsmen that he is innocent of the charges filed against him. He said he was home asleep at the time Mrs. Mauch was killed. Watson was on parole from the state prison when Mrs. Mauch was killed, authorities said, and returned there for an incident involving a 22-year-old white woman he said he met in a tavern.

Menasha's New Dump Area Open

Menasha — The new city dump for non-burnable rubbish went into operation today and the old dump area was barred.

Signs at the old area, along Highway 114 east of the city, point to the road into the new dump area, immediately behind the Sisters of the Holy Family of Nazareth convent land on Brighton drive.

Entry into the new area on ly will be off the highway. A sign denotes the entry road. As with the old dump, on ly non-burnable material will be allowed. The city's agreement with the religious order, which owns the land, provides for non-decaying matter to provide solid land fill. No and burning is permitted at the new dump.

Catholic Missionaries From Milwaukee Hurt In Mexico Auto Mishap

Mexico City — Two Catholic missionaries from Milwaukee Tuesday were brought here for treatment of injuries suffered in an automobile accident when they tried to avoid hitting a little girl.

Their car killed the child, Magdalena Jimenez Maldonado, 8, who reportedly darted onto the highway in front of the priests' car which overturned after the accident. The Rev. Robert Schweitzer suffered two broken vertebrae and is paralyzed in his legs and feet. The Rev. Henry Murphy broke an arm.

9 Teenagers Whipped for Trespassing

Tavares, Fla., — Nine teenage boys had smacking bottoms today as mementoes of a trespassing foray and their subsequent visit to the court of County Judge W. Troy Hall, Jr.

Hall, 43-year-old ex-marine and father of two girls, gave the boys, 17 and 18 years old, their choice yesterday of going to jail for 90 days or taking a whipping in the courtroom yesterday.

They chose the whipping.

and the room was cleared of spectators although court officials and Emmett Peter, a newspaperman, were allowed to remain.

Eight fathers and one mother stood with the boys when Hall asked if the parents would whip the boys themselves or let them go to jail.

"I for one would rather punish my boy right here," one parent spoke up. The others nodded agreement.

Belt Provided A deputy sheriff provided a leather belt four inches wide. The boys were led to a desk singly and received 20 to 25 blows each. Hall rapped his gavel when he thought each had had enough.

"They were not token spankings," Peter said. "The sound of leather resounded through the entire floor. Many of the boys grimaced with pain but none cried out. When it came the mother's turn, the judge asked if she would prefer to have a man do it. She insisted on swinging the belt herself.

The boys were accused of trespassing either on the Pine Meadow golf course, a dry cleaning plant or a Methodist youth camp.

Dan Cupid Lags In Traditional Bridal Month

Oshkosh — Despite a June lag, wedding licenses for the first six months of 1959 topped those of 1958. Dan Cupid slowed down as only 78 applications for licenses during June this year were recorded by Winnebago County Clerk Neil Hoffman compared to 98 for the same month last year.

This is the first time in several years the figure has failed to reach 90 during the traditional bridal month. However, the 78 licenses stand out as the most issued in any month this year.

Marriage licenses for 1959 are still running ahead of those issued last year. The six month total for this year is 290, compared to 272 for 1958. In recent June 95 licenses were issued in 1955, 99 in 1956, and 91 in 1958.

List Hints For Cooks

For an all in one salad and vegetable course, add one package frozen mixed vegetables to a favorite aspic recipe. Vegetables should be cooked, drained and chilled before adding.

In making cream of tomato soup, thickening the tomato juice or the milk before combining them lessens the tendency to curdle.

If you want a clean cut with cookie cutters, try dipping the cutter in slightly warm salad oil.

Paper towels are indispensable for draining fried foods like bacon and French fried potatoes. Hang a dispenser where the children can reach them for drying their hands.

Scissors have many uses in a busy kitchen. They cut parsley, chives, mint, scallions and leeks without the bother of a knife and cutting board.

Employee Vacations Delays BP Widening

County Crews Have Weeklong Holiday;
Paving Progresses on Hy. 41 Project

Menasha — Work on the reconstruction of County Trunk BP, the Old Manitowoc road, in the town of Menasha, was halted this week while county highway employees take their annual vacation.

Provisions were made for those living along the road to get in and out of their homes, Leon Morrissey, county highway commissioner indicated.

The road is being widened to 24 feet with a 3-foot shoulder on each side. New ditches are being excavated and culverts laid.

Morrissey indicated that no new sections of Highway 41 would be opened for awhile within the county. The overhead grade separations with Highways 110 and 21 were opened last weekend because of the heavy travel on Highway 41.

Cars had to go around those structures on short detours which slowed up traffic. With the paving of the overheads completed, it was decided to open them to traffic and to work on blacktopping the ramps under travel conditions as a means of helping speed traffic flow.

Paving Work
Paving of the west lane is underway at both the Neenah bypass and the Oshkosh section. Paving crews have neared the Highway 114 overhead near Neenah with two lanes while near Oshkosh the crews have completed the section from Highway 21 south to Highway 44 and now are working northward from Highway 26 to meet the Highway 44 stretch.

Rain has held up the paving work this week, the county highway commissioner indicated. The overheads for Highway 44 and 26, and County Trunk K still have considerable work left. The approaches are now being built with the hauling in of extra fill.

Clearing the right-of-way also is being done to provide room for the approaches to Highway 41 from these other highways.

Menasha Youth Loses Driver's License for Year

Oshkosh — Edward A. Simon, 16, route 1, Menasha, had his driver's license suspended for a year by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger Tuesday, after he pleaded guilty of speeding on a curve on Palisades drive Monday night.

His car went off the curve, damaging a mail box. A witness obtained his name, address and phone number and turned the information over to the sheriff's office.

Because of Simon's previous driving record, juvenile court jurisdiction was waived.

He was involved in an accident on Nov. 2, 1958 in which property was damaged and on last Jan. 10 his car struck a power pole on County Trunk in the town of Menasha when his driver's license was suspended for 30 days and he was placed on probation to his parents. On May 13, he was given a warning for speeding.

The Women's Missionary circle of the Community Baptist church will meet at 8:15 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Willard Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Tisdale Furman held open house at their route 5, Oshkosh home Sunday in observance of their 25th wedding anniversary.

A son was born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Smith at Denver, Colo. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Smith of Allenville and she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Stuebs of Neenah.

'Lonely Boy' Keeps Top Tune Spot in Fox Cities

'Battle of New Orleans' Still Runs Second in Valley, First in Nation

BY DICK DISC

Paul Anka's "Lonely Boy" continues to be the Fox Cities top tune for the second week in a row. The old faithful, "Battle of New Orleans," holds on to runner-up spot.

"My Heart Is An Open Book" has shown a lot of action since last week and has moved up to third place from tenth. There are no new tunes in the top 10 this week.

- Here's the list:
1. "Lonely Boy" by Paul Anka.
 2. "Battle of New Orleans" by Johnny Horton.
 3. "My Heart Is An Open Book" by Carl Dopkins, Jr.
 4. "Lipstick On Your Collar" by Connie Francis.
 5. "Waterloo" by Stonewall Jackson
 6. "Dream Lover" by Bobby Darin.
 7. "Personality" by Lloyd Price.

8. "Bongo Rock" by the Preston Epps.

9. "Kansas City" by Wilbert Harrison.

10. "A Teenager In Love" by Dion and the Belmonts.

The nation's top tune according to Cashbox is still "Battle of New Orleans," and "Personality" still holds second place.

Ten years ago "Bail Hai" was a top tune and five years ago "Here" was a big one. Last year "Big Man" was popular.

New Tunes

In the new tune spotlight: "Angel Face" by Jimmy Darren. A new calypso with a pretty melody and lots of appeal. Darren is backed up by a sweet sounding chorus which adds much depth. The tune is nice and reminds one of a Bobby Darin number.

"A Big Hunt of Love" and "My Wish Came True" by Elvis Presley. That Presley's latest is his greatest probably has been said about all his singles and well could apply to this effort. "Hunk" is a frantic rocker featuring a rocking piano and a shouting vocal by Presley. The other side is a pretty ballad. Both sides have a strong beat and are

It's well sung and has a cute melody.

New albums include:

"Anatomy of a Murder (Soundtrack)" with Duke Ellington. This album is only slightly sensational in stereo and monaural. It consists of original compositions by Ellington for the movie of the same name.

The mood of this jazz music suggests a tense, melodramatic type of setting. It's good jazz and the Ellington band does a superb job of interpreting it.

backed up by Presley's usual choral group. The two sides also sound similar to all of Elvis' other records.

"Here Comes Summer" by Jerry Keller. Here's a bright, bouncy number that is geared to the summer season. Written and sung by Keller, the tune has much teen appeal.

Young, Unknown Actor Wanted for New Play

New York — Some young and unknown actor with a flair for foreign accents is wanted for "Love Tree," a prospective Broadway entry. The plot requires the talents of a performer who can impersonate a swami fortune teller, a French butler and a young American.

New York — Dore Schary, who has written one play for Broadway and directed another, will combine both skills in his next theatrical outing. Harvests More, Saves More Harvesting goes faster with an Oliver Model 18 pull-type. You take a full 7-foot cut with its floating, auger-type header. Right behind it are field-proven units to save more of every grain and bean crop.

First of all, a semi-revolving reel reduces shattering by descending straight into the crop. Then another grain-saver takes over. Oliver's "Man Behind the Gun" traps 90% of the grain right at the cylinder, sends it directly to the cleaning shoe before it can mix with straw and chaff. Finally, extra pitching by extra long walkers shakes out the remaining kernels.

There's a lot more to see—the swinging drawbar, 25-bushel tank, husky tubular frame, adjustable concaves. Engine or PTO model; hydraulic or counterbalanced hand lift.

Grange Asks New Wheat Program

Cut Subsidies by Government

Washington — A new, being sold for whatever the approach to farm problems farmer could get on the world market. which would raise farmers' income. Parity is a price said by come while cutting tax - paid. Parity is a price said by government subsidies was law to be fair to farmers in urged on congress Tuesday by relation to their costs. the National Grange.

Herschel D. Newsom, Grange master, said these objectives could be realized through individual commodity programs providing "American prices" for farmers comparable with prices and wages earned by non-farm business and labor.

First Witness

Newsom was the first witness in house agriculture committee hearings on new general farm policy.

Chairman Harold C. Cooley (D-NC) admitted prospects of legislation were poor after "we met with disaster" in last week's presidential vetoes of wheat and tobacco bills. "I'm not encouraged to believe we can agree on legislation which will be acceptable to the president and the administration—but we can try," Cooley said as the hearings started.

2-Price Plan

The Grange is a long-time advocate of a domestic parity, or so-called "2-price," wheat program. Under it, consumers would finance full parity price support for wheat used for home consumption, with other wheat production

Armed Forces Hike Milk Consumption

U. S. Armed Forces in 1958 increased their consumption of milk by about 523 million pints as a result of a special department of agriculture program, says a recent report received at the Outagamie County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office. Consumption of fluid milk by army, navy, air force, and marine personnel is about triple what it would have been if normal supplies of fluid milk had been purchased and issued to members of the armed forces.

Under the program to stimulate expanded use of milk for troop feeding, the Department of Agriculture pays a part of the cost of additional milk consumed. The increase in armed forces milk consumption diverts fluid milk from the manufacture of dairy products that otherwise would be purchased by the government under price support.

Under a similar arrangement, Veterans administration hospital patients increased consumption of milk in 1958 by 2.7 million pounds. Chute.

State Sugar Beet Output Shows Boost

Wisconsin's beet sugar industry showed a sharp production increase to 34,348,700 pounds of sugar from the 1958 crop.

The Wisconsin total exceeds by 9 million pounds the total produced from the 1957 crop and ranked second only to the record of 40,233,600 pounds in 1951.

National production figures also show a new all-time record high of 4,141,856,000 pounds of sugar, an increase of nearly six million pounds over the previous record year of 1957.

Wisconsin ranked 13th among the 15 western states which produce beet sugar. California, Colorado, Idaho, Minnesota and Montana ranked highest in that order.

Sugar beets, produced in 22 states, account for nearly one-fourth of all sugar consumed in the United States each year. More than 60 factories, including four in Minnesota, process the crop.

USDA Backs 'Food For Peace Program'

Several projects to increase utilization of wheat are being planned by the U.S. and other wheat exporting nations as a first step in the Food for Peace program, according to word received at the Outagamie Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

The planned actions include:

1. Further assistance to the needy with direct feeding programs such as school lunch projects, refugee feeding, and resettlement.

2. Further emphasis on projects which will permit foreign currencies to be used for economic development.

3. Further encouragement of setting up national food reserves in countries or areas of greatest need.

At a Food for Peace conference convened by Sec. of Agriculture Benson, a wheat utilization committee was formed to work on plans for international use of surplus wheat. Countries represented were Argentina, Australia, Canada, France, and the United States.

END CANVAS TROUBLES— USE THE JOHN DEERE 30 COMBINE

...with 7-FOOT AUGER-PLATFORM--EVEN-FLO FEED

Listen to the steady hum of the threshing cylinder of the John Deere 30 Seven-Foot Combine at work, and you'll know that here is a combine that does a real job of threshing. As every good thresherman knows, even feeding is the big secret to best threshing. And, in the 30 Combine, it's the combination of the auger-type platform and the EVEN-FLO FEED that keeps the cylinder humming at proper threshing speed at all times—completely does away with canvas trouble.

Full-width, straight-through handling of straw and grain is another mighty important advantage you get in the 30 Combine. Because of the even feeding to the full-width cylinder, the material is spread out in a thin layer over every inch of the large separating and cleaning area. This insures more and cleaner grain or seed from every acre harvested.

Come in soon for full details on the 30 Combine. Ask about the John Deere Credit Plan.

Insect Control Means Saving For Farmers

Demonstration Set At Wausaukee Farm This Month

Wausaukee — Insect control means dollars in the pocket for Wisconsin farmers. Just how many dollars will be demonstrated on the Carl Schroeder, Jr., farm near here at farm progress field days June 30 and July 1-2.

E. H. Fisher, University of Wisconsin entomologist, has a number of insect control demonstrations already underway on the Schroeder farm. Visitors to the big, state-wide event will be able to size them up.

Herd Protected

The milking dairy herd is protected from blood sucking flies and mosquitoes with a barn-fogging unit. The unit, used while the cows are in the barn for milking, protects them around the clock. Fisher estimates total insecticide cost for the season will be about 70 cents per milking cow. Benefits are less summer slump in milk production and reduced lice and grub problems. These, he says, will far offset the cost of control.

Dairy heifers and beef cattle on the Schroeder farm treat themselves with a home-made cable backrubber. This protects against blood sucking flies, mosquitoes and ticks. One backrubber handles 75 cattle. Fisher points out the backrubber is not used on milking dairy cattle.

Sheds Sprayed

Livestock sheds will be sprayed with diazinon to control flies there. This chemical could be used on barn walls. With fogging in the dairy barn, however, there's no need to put the residual spray on barn walls and ceilings.

On May 21 this year the big alfalfa field on the farm was sprayed with methoxychlor to control spittlebugs. These sap-sucking insects stunt a field of hay and make it more starchy. Quack and other weeds grow better after spittlebug damage, Fisher adds. Average increase in feed value of sprayed alfalfa versus spittlebug-damaged alfalfa has been about 35 per cent in Wisconsin.

Co-op Wants End of Milk Flow Barriers

President Affeldt Asks Congress to Approve Legislation Like Wisconsin's

Fond du Lac — Elimination of artificial barriers to the free flow of milk among states is urged by Pure Milk Products cooperative.

President Paul Affeldt, in a letter to state senators and assemblymen serving on committees on agriculture, asked that the legislature memorialize congress to enact legislation along the lines recently adopted by the Wisconsin legislature and signed by Gov. Nelson.

The Pure Milk Products bill provides that farms and a plant licensed under Madison inspection would be free from further license fees and inspection fees in the city of LaCrosse, for example except as the city of LaCrosse would have the right to check the quality of the milk as it is distributed in LaCrosse. This principle has been recognized in meat inspection, packed in Chicago and sold in Wisconsin after approval by federal inspectors.

Quick Action

"After putting our own house in order, Pure Milk Products feels that interstate free flow of milk, approved by federal inspectors and passing federal health regulations, should be permitted immediately," Affeldt said.

"The present artificial barriers under the guise of health inspection requirements, duplication of inspection fees and excessive costs should have no place in the national economy. We have eliminated these in Wisconsin, for which state legislators deserve the highest praise, and we hope the congress will see fit to eliminate the barriers on a national scale," Affeldt pointed out.

There are several resolutions now pending in the legislature memorializing congress to take such action, which will come before the legislature this week and Affeldt asked the state representatives to speed action on them.

"The dairy industry is Wisconsin's biggest business and needs this legislation, recently enacted in the state, on a national basis," Affeldt said.

Charges Dismissed Against Police Chief

Monona, Wis. — A charge of reckless driving against village Police Chief Rollin H. Boden was dismissed Monday.

Acting Justice of the Peace Richard E. Gordon said "testimony has failed to prove a willful and wanton disregard for life and property necessary to substantiate a reckless driving charge."

A police car Boden was driving June 14 skidded out of control and struck a mound of dirt at a construction site. Donald M. Lundie, a village resident, filed the complaint against Boden.

Forester Notes Growth of Trees At 'Paca Plantation

Waupaca — A growth of 10 inches in two weeks was recorded in a plantation of Norway pines near Waupaca according to Dale Tubbs, county forester.

Tubbs who is checking growth of pine plantations in Dayton and Farmington townships states that growth ranged from two to ten inches in the last two weeks.

The area on which the pines are planted is being checked periodically by the forestry department as an experiment to find relationships between growth and insect attacks. The trees being checked are from four to six feet high.

The experiments being conducted throughout Wisconsin will also show growth patterns in relation to location in the state according to Tubbs. The project is sponsored by the University of Wisconsin and the Wisconsin Conservation department.

A Good Close Look at each other was afforded this sheep and Will Joslyn of Menasha at the Pine River farm of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sheppard, a Michigan native who retired from an Arizona contracting business to create a woodland preserve near Redgranite.

'Wildwood'

Farm at Pine River Becomes Wildlife Area

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Staff Editor

Pine River — A wildlife preserve is being created in the Redgranite area by a Michigan native who retired from the contracting business in Arizona.

The fabulous trout of the Pine river brought Allan Sheppard and his wife to this community and the woodland landscape of the territory gave birth to the preserve idea.

While "Wildwood," as the Redgranite home and preserve is, to be known, the Sheppards are raising sheep at Pine River.

The Pine River farm is located at the end of one of the many unfinished roads platted by A. M. Kimball in 1856 and the storied stream winds through the property which also includes an extensive stand of 20 to 25-year-old pines.

High Water Level
At present Sheppard is constructing a ranch-type house on his Wildwood estate and his experience is making him wonder why there has been so much agitation in the area for irrigation rights.

The water level is so high, Sheppard is spending most of his time keeping his basement excavation dry.

It is understood a huge, perhaps the largest in the world, underground lake is covered by most of central Waushara county.

A weekly newspaper editor on the western side of the county has declared, perhaps with understandable local pride, the area could become another agricultural paradise similar to the Yosemite valley if the lake is tapped correctly.

Sheppards' Sheep
As the first step toward their retirement to growing all types of wild shrubs and trees on the Redgranite property, the Sheppards arranged their Pine River barn into a series of mangers and raised a flock of some 130 sheep.

Since Sheppard's Chicago-raised wife is left to handle the Pine River end of their enterprise, the present flock of sheep will be their last.

Although she has taken a lively interest in her "lambs," the work has become more than a city-bred person desires in retirement.

The pine stand at Pine River and the exciting conservation project at Redgranite should compensate the Sheppards for the loss of their sheep and leave a mark of distinction on the landscape of this couple drawn from the Southwest by Wisconsin's woodland wonders and rest.

Tax Refund Blanks Ready

Refund blanks for federal tax on gasoline are now available at the agricultural extension office, court house, Appleton.

Any farm owner, tenant, or operator of a farm, may file a claim for federal tax refund on gasoline purchased before July 1, 1959 and which was used on the farm after June 30, 1958. The rate of tax return is 3 cents per gallon.

After the form has been completely filled in, it should be filed with the U.S. District Director of Internal Revenue, which in the case for farmers in Outagamie county would be Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

All claims will be allowed only if they are filed on or before September 30, 1959.

Farmers who have been filing for federal gas tax refunds in previous years will be sent a claim form by the Internal Revenue Service. The supply at the Agricultural Extension Office is for those who have not filed in previous years.

4-H Dress Revue

The Outagamie county 4-H dress revue will be held July 9 at 9 a.m. at Freedom High school.

Cattle Feed Critical Issue

Corn Growers Don't Want Surplus Wheat Dumped on Market

BY OVID A. MARTIN

Washington —(U)— The possibility of much wider use of cheap wheat as livestock feed has arisen as a critical issue in a contest over new legislation aimed at curing a wheat surplus problem.

A house agriculture subcommittee is considering a number of bills dealing with wheat. A measure tending to separate wheat and corn growers into two camps would set up a multiple price plan for wheat. Under it, wheat used for food purposes would bring growers a relatively high return. The remainder of the crop would go for lower prices for feed and export uses.

Major supporters of the multiple price plan are the National Grange and the National Association of Wheat Growers. But the American Farm Bureau federation has raised objections to the plan.

President E. Howard Hill of the Iowa Farm Bureau federation told the subcommittee that "livestock and corn farmers have no intention of permitting subsidized wheat to be dumped on the feed market."

Hill said that under the multiple price plan, wheat farmers would receive $2.36 a bushel for one-half their wheat,

Cookouts, Picnics Now in Season

Whether you call it cookout, barbecue or picnic, the season for outdoor eating has moved into high gear.

Thanks to new designs in barbecue equipment and comfortable outdoor furniture, cooking outdoors has come home to the back yard as never before. For those who prefer a jaunt for a holiday, there are many parks, camping spots and lakes to head for that will spell fun and relaxation for either afternoon or weekend of family pleasure.

It is no trouble at all nowadays to pack the family for a holiday trip that couples outdoor eating with a bit of sightseeing. It all depends on canny planning of supplies.

Plenty of disposable tissues make clean-up jobs a cinch. Paper plates, cups, tablecloths, towels and napkins make modern picnicking a pleasure whether it's at a park, lake, back yard or beach. Wax paper offers top protection to food between the time of preparation and the spot where it's to be eaten.

Old Favorites
As for picnic fare, the variety is limitless. Topping the list are old favorites, perhaps served in new ways. Such things as potato chips, beans, hot dogs, pork links, buns, hamburgers always have spelled picnic and probably always will because they are so popular.

Add to these the welcome beverage . . . carbonated drinks and milk . . . either served as they come or dressed up in a new recipe for something a little different. Both go well with ice cream to make a cooling drink or maybe with a touch of fruit or syrup for an appealing soda made on the spot. Insulated bags keep such supplies as these icy cold.

Here are a few examples of what to eat on a picnic taken from a new book on outdoor cookery:

Grillburgers
8 round buns, cut and toasted butter, mustard to taste
8 slices Swiss cheese
8 tomato slices
8 onion slices
8 wieners
potato chips, radishes
Spread buns with butter and mustard. Place cheese and vegetables between bun halves. Wrap in foil and grill. About 10 minutes later, heat wieners on grill. Split lengthwise and place two halves in each burger. Serve with chips and radishes for a well-rounded meal.

Ham Dinner Package
Arrange slices of ham spread with marmalade, canned sweet potatoes and orange slices on double thickness of foil. Sprinkle with slivered almonds. Close package, sealing edges together with a tight double fold. Heat on grill over medium fire for about 30 minutes.

Savory Potatoes
Bake potatoes in foil on coals. Partially unwrap and cut potatoes criss-cross fashion. Mix in ham salad spread or butter and crisp bits of bacon.

Plantation Packs
Place wiener in long buttered bun. Spoon chunk-style peanut butter generously over wiener. Wrap in foil and heat through.

Apple Chutney On Broiled Bird

Apple Chutney
1 can (20-ounce) apple slices
½ cup unsulphured molasses
2 tablespoons vinegar
½ cup raisins
1 teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon ginger
Turn all ingredients into a saucepan. Bring to a boil. Re-

A Moment of Family activity that spells fun for youngsters and relaxation for their parents is this picnic scene in a park. The same scene will be repeated many times over this weekend along Lake Winnebago, in back yards, along the highway or at the lake. It's picnic time at its best.

Patriotic Theme

Team Berries With Snowy Cream

Well, here's Independence day once again, the most patriotic holiday of them all.

Once upon a time, snapping firecrackers heralded its presence, but safer ways usually are used these days to celebrate and foremost among them is the family reunion or picnic.

An appropriate dessert for such an occasion is Red-White-And-Blue Shortcake, particularly if there are young fry to delight. Shortcake is a good old American favorite to begin with and piled high with fresh red raspberries, blueberries duce heat and simmer five minutes. Serve hot or cold with broiled chicken.

This recipe makes approximately three cups.

and snow-white whipped cream it becomes a dessert with a patriotic theme.

Finally, a word about table decorations. The themes are traditional, of course—stars, flags, drums and other patriotic motifs. You can easily obtain star-studded paper napkins, and perhaps you could find a toy drum to set flowers in. You can even dress up your dinner-ware by sticking tiny colored-foil stars onto plates, cups, saucers and pitchers, a pretty and original touch.

Red-White-and-Blue Shortcake
2 cups sifted, enriched flour
3 tablespoons sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup whipping cream
1 qt. red raspberries

1 pint cultivated blueberries
Sugar

Mix and sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Whip cream; blend in lightly with fork. Roll out ¼-inch thick on lightly floured board.

Cut into 24 rounds one and one-half inches in diameter. Bake in 450-degree hot oven, 12 to 15 minutes, or until golden brown.

Meanwhile crush half the raspberries and sweeten to taste. Sugar remaining whole raspberries and blueberries. Split and butter hot biscuits and put together with crushed raspberries.

Place three on each serving plate. Garnish with whole berries and additional whipped cream.

Season Stars New, Unusual Egg Recipes

If eggs are a favorite at your house, you're in luck this season. News from the poultry world tells us there will be big supplies this year — plenty for all your usual dishes and some imaginative extras besides.

For livelier flavor, add a little California white dinner wine to classic egg recipes, and serve the rest of the bottle, chilled, with the meal.

Gourmet Scrambled Eggs
6 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons cream
1/2 cup Chablis or other white dinner wine
1/2 teaspoon dried dill, rosemary or basil
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup coarsely crumbled Danish blue cheese
1 tablespoon chopped chives, parsley or pimiento

Beat eggs slightly. Stir in salt, cream, wine and seasoning. Melt butter in medium-size skillet, tilting pan so bottom and sides are covered. When hot enough to make drop of water sizzle, turn in egg mixture; reduce heat. Cook slowly, gently lifting eggs from bottom and sides with spoon as mixture sets, so liquid can flow to bottom; do not over-stir. Add cheese and chives while eggs are still creamy. Cook to desired moistness. Serve at once.

Eggs In A Nest
Cooked noodles
4 eggs, deviled
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1/2 cup sauterne or other white dinner wine
Grated cheese
Line four individual casseroles with cooked noodles; place two deviled egg halves in each. Mix soup and wine then spoon over eggs. Top with cheese. Bake 20 minutes at 375 degrees.

Holiday Juleps
Fill glasses with cracked ice and refrigerate or set in freezer. Pour lemonade flavored with a drop of mint extract over ice. Work a long handled spoon up and down in the mixture to frost outside of glass. Decorate with a sprig of mint and a marachino cherry.

Watermelon Dessert
Buy a watermelon according to the size of your crowd—mammoth oval or miniature. Chill and cut in half lengthwise. Scoop melon balls from one side in large chunks with a soup spoon and heap on opposite side of melon. Fill hollow side with fresh blueberries. Ring with scoops of cream cheese beaten with sweet cream (one-fourth cup cream to eight ounces cream cheese). Keep chilled.

Ignorance Threat To U. S. Economy

BY SYLVIA PORTER

In our congress today policies affecting the survival of our economic system are being made by economic illiterates.

In business board rooms and union meeting halls decisions involving our jobs are being made by men who have only the vaguest idea of what creates a job.

In our high schools and colleges the future leaders of America are being taught either nothing about our economic system, or are being given dreadfully inadequate courses.

Few students in our high schools learn anything about our economic system. The vast majority of American adults are not only ill-informed on economic issues; worse, they don't care about being better informed.

Most of our lawmakers are militee for Economic Development, the Ford foundation and about the economic issues on which they're passing laws.

And this indictment goes to the very top of our nation at a time when understanding of the American economy is imperative if we are to meet the challenge of the Soviet economic system.

These are harsh words. And even harsher ones are being spoken by groups which are digging into the extent of our ignorance—such as the Committee for Economic Development, the Ford foundation and about the economic issues on which they're passing laws.

So seriously does the CED view our illiteracy that the last meeting of its 166 trustees (consisting of the nation's leading industrialists and scholars) was devoted to the question, "Can a Free Economy Survive Its Economic Ignorance?" But of the conference came general agreement that it well may not be able to.

More Take Music
Less than 5 per cent of America's high school students have been taking one course in economics; eight times as many students enroll in music as in economics.

Those who do take courses get inferior training—for fewer than 10 per cent of elementary school teachers and fewer than 25 per cent of high school teachers have had as much as one course in economics.

At the college level the situation isn't much better. Not more than 15 per cent of students in liberal arts colleges take courses in economics. Even at the schools of business most of the education is practical, and only a tiny part of it is devoted to the basic makeup of our system.

Confusion Rampant
At the adult level it's unlikely that one in 20 today has had any formal training in economics, and so great is the lack of understanding that in one recent survey adults placed the whole field of social studies on a par with such subjects as training in driving a car.

The CED's trustees believe the situation is now urgent enough to warrant an all-out attack.

At the high school level, the CED is planning to expand its support of the Joint Council on Economic Education—the 10-year-old headquarters for work on the problem of economic illiteracy. The joint council is pioneering in training economics teachers, preparing objective and quality material in economics for use by teachers and students.

Studies May Help
At the college level the Ford foundation and Carnegie corporation are now completing studies on illiteracy which hopefully will become the basis for a national policy to strengthen economic education in the colleges.

At the adult level the CED is promoting the establishment of CED associates in 20 major centers to help leaders of business and education promote the understanding of our economy.

It's a beginning at least. I salute it, for I've always feared that if our system dies it will be because, in our ignorance, we didn't know it was dying—or we were killing it. (Copyright, 1959)

Handy Hints Listed for Outdoor Cooks

Most Equipment Comes With Good, Specific Directions

Cookout enthusiasts can get the best help in fire building and cookout preparations from the directions that come with equipment, plus their own experience and a few reminders like these.

Keep briquets in a dry place. They readily absorb moisture from air. You'll find they light faster and won't cause smoke.

A lining of two thicknesses of heavy duty foil in firebox catches drippings, helps keep grill clean.

If your firebox is solid metal, cover it with a layer of porous fire bed material or small gravel. Bring to edge of firebox and spread level.

Don't forget to start your fire early so briquets will burn long enough to be covered with gray ash. This indicates the steady heat needed for barbecuing.

Fuel - saving tip: Make charcoal layer only a little wider all around than the food on the grill.

Take advantage of a good breeze to help fuel ignite. Then shield the fire to prevent it burning too fast, wasting heat and fuel.

Asbestos gloves or holders and long-handled utensils help the chef keep cool.

Fire-control tricks: To lower heat, spread briquets farther apart. To increase heat, knock gray ash off top of briquets.

Don't poke a charcoal fire; poking tends to slow it.

When adding fuel, place it around edges of fire. Cold briquets on top of glowing coals reduce their heat and slow barbecuing.

Use tongs for turning sausages. Piercing them with a fork lets juices and flavor escape during cooking.

Fuel-saving trick: When cooking is finished, put partially burned briquets into pail of water. Soak, pour off water and let them dry thoroughly for next cookout.

Meat Balls Served With Spaghetti

Here's a recipe for a meat-ball casserole which is as adaptable as it is tasty. Serve it with spaghetti, as an entree, or as an appetizer.

Lemony-Meat-Balls
1-1/3 cups chopped onion
2-3 cup green pepper, chopped
4 tablespoons butter
1 clove garlic, crushed
2-10 1/2 ounce cans tomato soup
2 cans beef bouillon
1 cup bottled lemon juice
2 unbeaten eggs
salt
basil
2 pounds ground beef

Melt two tablespoons butter in skillet and add chopped onions, green pepper and clove garlic. Cook gently until the vegetables are tender and slightly golden.

Add the canned soups and bottled lemon juice. Simmer slowly.

Turn ground beef into a large bowl. Add eggs, and season with one-half teaspoon salt, dash pepper and pinch of basil; mix thoroughly.

Shape into balls about the size of table tennis balls. Melt two tablespoons shortening in a skillet and brown the meat balls, a few at a time, first on one side and then on the other, turning them carefully.

When browned, put in a casserole. Pour the hot sauce over them. Cover and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Practical Tips Help in Making Sandwiches

Here are some practical tips for picnic sandwich-making. Choose a variety of sliced breads: also hard and soft rolls. Have them buttered—ready for sandwiches.

Be sure butter is spread to edges on both sides to keep fillings from soaking in. Leave crust on to keep bread from drying.

Generous Fillings

Wrap cut sandwiches individually in foil. Pack in pan. Cover with additional wrap and a damp towel. Keep chilled.

Beef, Pork in Good Supply During July

Incense from sacrificial altars was humble sniffin' indeed compared with the aromatic delights of America's backyards and patios. Eating out-of-doors is in full swing and everyone from grandpa to the neighbor's little boy is lining up for his share of the fun. With both beef and pork in good supply this July, there will be no disappointments in the second helping line.

The "season" for beef is still with us and supplies are running about 5 per cent above last year. As the season progresses, beef prices should become more attractive. Much of the beef will be of the high quality that makes for juicy, tender steaks and roasts and extra good eating at cookout time.

There will be more pork than is usually on the market this time of year—about 10 per cent more than last July, the American Meat institute reports. This will be good news to advocates of barbecue and casseroles, should be a frequent addition to summer menus. Broiled ham slices on the grill and ham on a spit will be other popular features.

What would the Fourth of July picnic be without the hot dog! And the national pastimes of baseball would not seem complete without these items.

Barbecue, Outdoor Recipes Rate High at Scout Roundup

BY EDITH M. BARBER

It is not so long ago that U.S. citizens were urged to get to know their compatriots whose ancestry is of so many different stocks. Today, we feel this is not enough, that we should get to know as many as possible who come directly from other countries. We must know the world as well as our own country.

The fortunate senior teenage girls who belong to the Girl Scouts of America are being given this opportunity at the roundup that will be held near Colorado Springs, Colo., from July 3 to 12. Among the 8,500 scouts will be members from all 49 states, the territories and possessions and from Girl Guide associations from many parts of the world.

The girls will sleep in tents and prepare their own meals on charcoal stoves. A number of the large food manufacturers and distributors and the paper and metal foil producers have contributed supplies that will solve the food problem. Fruit juice, cereal, toast, eggs and beverages will be served at breakfast. At lunch there will be variations of canned soups, sandwiches, simple salads, cookies and occasionally even ice cream.

At dinner there will be chicken or meat, with fish on Friday, of course, canned vegetables, milk and perhaps as a treat pie, or ice cream with sauce, or watermelon.

Chick-N-Que

Brush each chicken half with oil. Place on grill, skin side up, over medium coals. Cook, turning once or twice, about 20 to 30 minutes, browning on both sides. Have squares of aluminum foil ready and place broiler half in center of each square. Add 2 tablespoons barbecue sauce to each. Bring ends of foil together up over chicken and twist ends. Place on grill and

Barbecued Steaks

Have steaks cut at least one and one-half inches thick. Sear both sides quickly on grill over glowing coals. Baste with barbecue sauce. Cook a few minutes; then turn and baste the other side. Cook to desired doneness. (Do not prepare pork chops in this manner. Pork needs longer cooking.)

July 1st Is New Year's for Government

Fiscal Year Ends
With a $12 Billion
Recession Deficit

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Today — July 1st — is New Year's day so far as government finances are concerned. One fiscal year ends, and another begins. The deficit is more than $12 billion, largely due to the economic recession. It's a record for so-called peacetime. The coming year, however, is expected to see a balanced budget.

With armament expenditures taking a bigger and bigger proportion of the national budget, due to the cold war in a nuclear age, it is not surprising that a setback on the economic front runs into such big figures. The government's chief worry is the continuation of rising prices. It has to pay each year more and more for the same articles of warfare that it bought in previous years at lower prices.

This is why inflation is being so widely discussed as a danger to the American economy. President Eisenhower appointed a committee of the cabinet to analyze the problem. After several months of study, it has just issued its report.

Regarded as Political Unfortunately, because of the prominence of some of the cabinet members in the political arena, the report is being regarded by Democratic opponents as political. It would have received more attention perhaps if it had been signed only by such non-political figures as Robert Anderson, secretary of the treasury, and Raymond S. Saulnier, chairman of the president's council of economic advisers. Here, for instance, is an extract from the cabinet committee report which reads like the language of Anderson and Saulnier:

"Without firm control of the quantity of money and credit, all other measures to check inflation will be futile. Sound monetary policy requires the federal government avoid making its bonds, other than those of comparatively small denomination designed for family savings, the equivalent of money. Government bonds are the equivalent of money; if they can always be changed into actual money at virtually face value, not only when they are due and payable but any time before.

This Is the Case "This is the case if the treasury is forced to issue only very short-term bonds, or if the federal reserve system stands ready to buy at a pegged price all government bonds offered to it in advance of the date when they are due to be paid by the treasury. There is only an imperceptible difference between the government's just cranking up the printing presses and rolling out greenbacks. The government will be forced to continue issuing large additional amounts of short-term bonds that are the near-equivalent of money until the congress allows the treasury sufficient flexibility to achieve a balance in our debt structure by inducing people of their own free will to invest their savings in long-term government bonds. Thus, to avoid inflation it is essential the present limitation on the interest rate on long-term government bonds be removed, as the administration has already recommended.

Price Stability "The issue is whether we want price stability or whether we want, in a concealed way to do the equivalent of printing money — something the American public would not stand for if done openly." This is the most outspoken appraisal yet of what deficit spending can mean. It comes at a time when the president is asking congress to permit interest rates to find a natural level and not to be restricted by government action. Many Democrats are fighting for the maintenance of artificially low rates.

(Copyright, 1959) Lettuce Dipping Bowl Did you know that if you remove the outer leaves and the center from a head of iceberg lettuce, you are left with a perfect bowl to hold dunking spreads for vegetable sticks and potato chips. And when the dipping's over, toss the lettuce with other greens.

Zesty Sauce Adds Special Flavor Touch to Steaks

Round steak or swiss steak can make a tasty and economical meal with the addition of a zesty sauce. Lemon-Onion Steak Sauce is just right with either of these cuts of meat, and should please the heartiest of appetites.

Steak Sauce Chop a large onion and several sprigs of parsley. Cook in oil until onions are soft. Then add one and one-half teaspoons wine vinegar, two tablespoons bottled lemon juice, two teaspoons salt, a dash of pepper and one and one-half teaspoons sugar. Stir well, cook over a low heat for about five minutes.

Before serving, stir in two tablespoons butter.

Carrots and Peppers

For those who like carrots, try adding some minced green pepper, sauteed in butter or margarine, to the hot vegetable mixture. Season to taste with salt and ground black pepper.

Holiday Treat On the March

Drum Sandwiches Clever Idea and Easy to Prepare

It is always fun to have something clever to serve family and friends on national holidays. Rap-A-Tap Drum Sandwiches stand front and center for July 4 celebrations because they are easy to prepare and assemble in advance.

The completed sandwiches should be covered with a damp cloth and stored in the refrigerator until time to serve. It is a good idea to make several extra sandwiches. Heartily appetizing together with patriotic appreciation will make it necessary to call out the reserves.

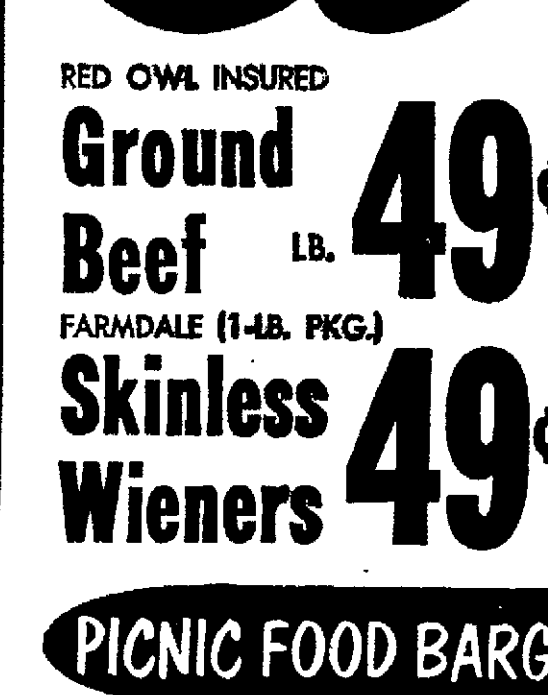

Drum Sandwiches 8 ounce package sliced bologna or cooked salami 16 slices bread 1/2 cup salad dressing 1 tablespoon prepared mustard 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

1 cup sliced pimiento olives Green pepper Pimiento olives Cut slices of bread the same size as the bologna. Combine salad dressing, mustard, Worcestershire sauce, and olives. Cover half of the slices with a salad dressing - mustard spread. Top with remaining slices of bread. Place a slice of bologna on each sandwich. To make the strings of the drum, cut thin strips of green pepper one and one-fourth inches long. Spread a little mayonnaise on pieces of pepper and lay them in a diagonal

Honey Gives Sandwiches That New Flavor Flair

Let the sandwich problem trouble you no longer, mothers. With a honey jar close at hand you can turn the old favorites into new tasting delicacies, or concoct really original ideas that can make two slices of bread only the platter for serving a real treat. For instance, why spread your bread with just butter? Why not use honey butter? By combining equal parts of honey and butter and creaming them well, you have a sandwich spread all by itself that does not need the help of other ingredients. Honey butter is excellent for dainty rolled sandwiches too.

Summer Favorites
Marinated Chicken
Stars at Pickle-nic'

According to etymologists, the origin of "picnic" is un- known. Some think it a French word, from pique - nique. . . but we heard a better one— from the pickle industry, of course. It is rumored that it comes from the first caveman, named Nick Neanderthal, who was taking his family out for a barbecue of sabre tooth ti- ger. As they were leaving their cave, Mrs. N asked: "did you bring the pickles, Nick?" Since then, packing a lunch to eat outdoors was known as a "pickles, Nick." Constant usage through the ages short- ened the word to "picnic." That figures, because, who ever heard of a picnic without pickles and who ever heard of a modern picnic or back- yard barbecue without the host-chef having a favorite recipe? Here's one that's as easy as it is delicious. . . . Marinated Chicken 1 tablespoon mixed whole pickling spices ½ teaspoon crumbled whole tin with water until clear. Stir into cottage cheese. Pour over chilled prune mixture in pans. Refrigerate until firm. Pour remainder of prune mixture on top of cottage cheese layer. Refrigerate un- til ready to serve. Cut 24 squares in each pan. Serve garnished with mayon- naise and whole cooked prunes. rosemary leaves 1 teaspoon salt ½ teaspoon instant minced onion 10½ ounces beef or chicken bouillon 1½ tablespoons bottled lem- on juice 2 broiler chickens, 1½ to 2 pounds each 1½ tablespoons butter, melt- ed 2 tablespoons dry vermouth Combine pickling spices, rosemary, salt, instant minced onion, beef or chicken bouillon, dry vermouth and lemon juice in a saucepan. Bring to boiling point, but do not boil. Split chickens in half lengthwise or, if desired, cut each chicken into quarters. (If chickens are frozen, thaw according to directions on package.) Place in a closefit- ting pan. Pour in marinade. Place in refrigerator to marinate at least 12 hours, turning several times. Remove chicken from mar- inade. Drain and cook over hot charcoal fire 20 to 30 min- utes, turning to cook each side. Or, if desired, cook in a 400-degree oven 25 to 30 min- utes, or until done. Baste with marinade as often as chicken appears dry. Brush skin with melted butter three minutes before cooking time is up. Cream Puff Filling Here's a delightful sum- mery filling for cream puffs: Fold sliced ripe strawberries into sweetened whipped cream flavored with vanilla.

Faith in Christ Most Essential Thing in Life

Rev. Gammelin Sees Parallel Between Peter, Modern Man

Faith in Christ was called the most essential thing in life, the only basis for true and lasting happiness, by the Rev. W. H. Gammelin, pastor of Zion Lutheran church, in his Sunday sermon.

The clergyman drew a parallel between modern man and Peter, who began to sink while walking on the water of the Lake of Genesaret when he diverted his eyes from Christ and saw only the waves around him.

"When man today takes his eyes off Christ and the material and temporal things of life become the focal point of his attention, then, as Peter, he, too, begins to sink into the sea of sin, and the waves of selfishness, greed, lust, avarice, of jealousy and envy, of pride and arrogance, and unbelief and doubt threaten to overwhelm him," the Rev. Gammelin said.

"Because men and women today are so prone to live their lives independent of faith in Christ, the rate of those who are living frustrated lives is constantly on the increase."

Fears, anxieties, care and worries stem from a lack of faith in a loving, gracious God as revealed through Christ, the pastor said.

This lack of faith was also pointed out as "the cause of racial tensions, the source of differences and their devastating effects between industry and labor, and the underlying reason for the precarious international relationships."

Only when the sinking Peter turned to Christ did he experience the Master's saving power. We too must direct our attention to Christ, for our only hope lies in Him, the Rev. Gammelin concluded.

22-Year-Old Denies Theft

Raymond Wyngard, 22, formerly of Appleton, pleaded innocent at a hearing in municipal court Tuesday of burglary and theft of $649 from Larry's Piggly Wiggly market, Kaukauna, Sept. 19, 1957. He will face formal charges July 14.

Wyngard is one of two men charged in the burglary. Walter Kapusta, 22, Detroit, admitted the theft and was sentenced to two concurrent terms of one to five years at the Green Bay reformatory.

The men were arrested for a series of safe-cracking jobs in Detroit. Kapusta is serving his term while on parole from Michigan. Wyngard was released from a Michigan prison last month and extradited to face charges here.

2 Appleton Men Jailed

Didn't Post Bond After Arraignment For Resisting Arrest

Chilton—Two Appleton men are in Calumet county jail after failing to post bond of $500 each set when they were arraigned before Wilbur R. Winch, justice of the peace, Monday.

Edward Miller, 24, Van Camp road, and his brother, Earl, 23, Wisconsin road, were charged with resisting arrest.

The pair allegedly started a fight at a wedding dance at Lake Park Saturday night. Eventually more than a dozen youths became involved in the fracas, police said.

The Miller brothers were arrested by John Dietzen, deputy sheriff. Dietzen got face cuts requiring four stitches to close when he tried to stop the melee.

Preliminary hearing was set for July 8.

Softball League Will Make-Up Game Tonight

Little Chute — The village softball league game between Gene's Bar and Tousey's Bar postponed Monday because of rain will be played at 6 p.m. this evening at the Athletic field.

In a regularly scheduled game Thursday night, Nick's Bar will meet the Log Cabin Tavern.

Standings not including this week's games show that Lefty's Bar is first with a 3-0 slate while tied for second with 2-1 marks are Gene's, Nick's and Joe's Recreation. The Log Cabin and Tousey's are in the cellar with three straight losses.

Games Postponed Because of Wetness

Kimberly — The full schedule of games slated for Monday night in the Village Softball league was postponed because of wet grounds.

League president Wayne Kilsdonk said they will not be made up this weekend because of the July 4 holiday. However, the tilts will probably be played sometime next week. Official announcement of a makeup date will be made later, Kilsdonk said.

He Evaded Driving Law A Long Time: 15 Years

Chester Z. Zdiarstek, 46, route 1, Appleton, evaded state motor vehicle regulations for a long time.

"How long have you been driving without a license?" Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmieg asked Tuesday when Zdiarstek was arraigned.

"Fifteen years," was the reply.

Renewed Prosperity

Most Americans Better Off Than at Start of Year

BY SAM DAWSON
New York — Most Americans fared well in the first half of 1959 — despite all the threats to their peace and prosperity at home and abroad.

They have more money than six months ago, are spending more, going into debt more, working longer hours at a record number of jobs.

At midyear the cost of living is rising at only a moderate, if insidious, rate.

Total personal incomes have risen steadily and now are at a record high. They are being boosted along by higher wage scales, overtime pay, bigger dividend checks, and higher returns on services rendered.

Job opportunities have increased more than seasonally. The stubborn total of unemployment began to melt as spring brought more outdoor work. Industrial output has climbed to new peak.

At midyear most of us are better off than we could have hoped New Year's day. Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, reviews an exciting first half of 1959 in the following story, first of two on the economic outlook.

Money supplies have tightened and interest rates are rising. But only recently has the individual begun to feel any pinch. Up till now the chief complainers have been the federal, state and local governments seeking to raise cash and corporations who are charged more when they borrow.

More Homes

So far Americans have been able to find enough mortgage financing to start an increasing number of homes.

The citizenry is taking on a record amount of installment debt. It has added to its mortgage obligations and personal loans, but still has managed to save almost as much money as a year ago.

For the first time in several years motorists have Irene D. Reinhardt, 18, route 1, Neenah, was fined $40 in municipal court Tuesday for leaving the scene of an accident.

She was charged six points for the violation, three more for the accident.

She was arrested by Appleton police Sunday after she hit a parked car on the 1000 block of N. State street. The car was owned by Outagamie Traffic Sgt. George Else, New London.

Fined $15 each and charged three points for speeding were Frances J. Zak, 513 N. Appleton street, and Thomas F. Gertz, 22, 119 W. Wisconsin avenue.

Cincinnati Slams 14 Hits, Hands Braves 8-5 Defeat

Milwaukee Margin Reduced to Half-Game as Redlegs Blast Burdette; Mathews Hits No. 24

Cincinnati — The Cincinnati Reds blasted Lew Burdette for 11 hits, including a pair of home runs Tuesday night to beat Milwaukee, 8-5, and cut the Braves' first-place lead to one-half game over the San Francisco Giants.

The Giants gained ground in the close National league race by beating Los Angeles 2-0.

Relief pitcher Orlando Pena allowed only three hits in the final four innings to help the Reds to their triumph. He came on in the sixth after Joe Adcock blasted a 2-run home run off Redleg starter Bob Purkey to cut the Reds lead to 6-5.

5 Out of 9

The Reds, picking up their fifth victory over Milwaukee in nine games this year, got six runs off loser Burdette and picked up two more runs on three hits off relief hurler Don McMahon. Burdette now is 11-7 for the season and Purkey 7-9.

Cincinnati got a 1-run lead in the first inning when Johnny Temple doubled and scored on Frank Robinson's single.

Milwaukee came back for three in the third on Eddie Mathews' twenty-fourth home run of the season. Felix Mantilla and Billy Bruton scored ahead of him.

The Reds came back in their half of the third to take a one run lead. Vada Pinson singled and after Mel Roach bobbled Robinson's infield dribbler, Gus Bell hit a 3-run homer. It was Bell's ninth of the season and gave the Reds a 4-3 margin.

Increases Lead

Cincinnati increased the margin to 6-3 in the fourth when two out Temple singled and Pinson hit his twelfth homer.

Milwaukee cut the margin to 6-5 in the top of the sixth when Wes Covington singled and came home on Adcock's sixth home run of the year. Pena relieved Purkey and got the side out and from then on baffled the Braves.

Jerry Lynch greeted McMahon with a homer in the seventh inning. It was his tenth circuit clout of the year. The Reds wrapped it up in the eighth, scoring on a single by Eddie Kasko, a sacrifice by Pena and a single by Temple. His fourth hit of the game.

Warren Spahn (10-8) will

Foxes, Demons Will Try Again Tonight

Due to Play Twin Bill After Third Postponement in Row

A rigorous schedule lies immediately ahead for the Fox Cities Foxes' 8-man pitching staff.

Because of a third straight postponement Tuesday night, the Foxes face the prospect of playing three doubleheaders in the next four days.

Weather permitting, the Foxes will play twin bills against Des Moines both tonight and Thursday night at Goodland field. After a single game here Friday night against Green Bay, the Foxes are down for a split doubleheader Saturday against the Blue Jays — a matinee in Green Bay and a night game here.

The Elks club charity night, originally slated for Tuesday, will be held Thursday night instead. All tickets bought in advance for last night's single game will be good for Thursday's twin bill. Special ceremonies Thursday will begin at 6:45 p.m.

Only Foxes with good memories will remember what a dry field looks like. They played on a wet diamond both Saturday night and Sunday afternoon. The Sunday night game against Sioux City was called off because of too-wet grounds; and last night's Des Moines game was rained out.

Griffith To Hurl

Tonight, the Foxes and the pennant - contending Demons will try again — with the first game due to start at 7 p.m. Lefty Dick Griffith, held over for a third time, will hurl one of the games for the Foxes. Right-hander Earl Furlow may start the other.

Des Moines will go with right-handers Ed Lundsford and Ed Hughes. The Demons, who are in the thick of the running for the all-star game bid, ended a 5-game slump Monday with a 4-2 win over Green Bay — the other All-Star game prospect.

Al Widmar, former major league pitcher, is temporarily managing the Demons in the absence of Charlie Kress, who is undergoing medical treatment for the first time this season, is a pitching instructor, farm supervisor and trouble shooter in the Philadelphia Phils organization. Widmar, who once hurled for the Red Sox, the St. Louis Browns and the White Sox, formerly managed Tulsa of the Texas league.

The smorgasbord at the Elks club went on as scheduled, with about 100 self-servers on hand. Foxes players and club officials also attended the affair later in the evening.

Musial Choice Lone Surprise On 'Star Roster

Burdette, Spahn, Conley Picked By NL's Haney

Cincinnati — Little Elroy Face, Pittsburgh's unbeaten relief ace, and tall Gene Conley, swapped by Milwaukee last spring to Philadelphia, were among the seven pitchers named by Manager Fred Haney to his National league All-Star squad.

The veteran Milwaukee pilot Tuesday selected 17 players to go along with the eight starters picked by the players themselves for the twenty-sixth annual All-Star game in Pittsburgh, July 7. The lone surprise was Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Although Stan was named only three players' ballot, Haney saw to it that this shooter in the Philadelphia Phils organization. Widmar, who once hurled for the Red Sox, the St. Louis Browns and the White Sox, formerly managed Tulsa of the Texas league.

Jones' No-Hit Bid Ruined by Gilliam's Infield Tap in 8th

Sam Stops LA, Moving Giants Within Half-Game of NL Lead

By The Associated Press

They call him "Sad" Sam Jones and he stood with head bowed, hands on his knees, when the "hit" sign flashed, snuffing out his bid for a second major league no-hitter with two out in the eighth.

An infield bouncer by Junior Gilliam, credited with a controversial single, was the only hit Los Angeles managed against the big right-hander Tuesday night as he pitched San Francisco to a 2-0 victory over the Dodgers with the help of Willie Mays' 2-run homer.

It was the second "near-miss" stab at a no-hitter this season by Jones (now 9-8) who had to settle for the first

1-hitter of his career while the Giants closed within a half-game of the National league lead.

Some of the 59,312 fans in the Los Angeles coliseum booed the scorer's decision on the bouncing ball, which cleared Jones' head and rolled toward second base. Shortstop Andre Rodgers picked it up, then dropped it. The official scorer ruled that the fleet, switch-hitting Gilliam, getting an extra jump batting left-handed, would have beaten it out anyway.

Jones' comment: "Can you imagine anyone calling that a hit? They don't want no-hitters thrown around here."

Cincinnati left nothing to the imagination while whipping first-place Milwaukee, 8-5, on three home runs. Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia, 4-3, and St. Louis beat Chicago's Cubs, 4-1.

The Dodgers, third, 1½ games back with their second loss in a row after winning seven straight, put five men on base. Three times the runner was Gilliam, who got both of Jones' walks. The other

Stitch Meets Rudy Sawyer In TV Bout

Louisville, Ky. — Ruel "Stitch" Stinchcomb, with everything to lose, takes on Rudy Sawyer, with everything to gain, in a scheduled 10-round welterweight fight tonight.

Stitch was expected to weigh 147 and Sawyer 149 for the nationally televised (ABC) bout at 9 p.m., CDT. Stinchcomb, from Louisville, could rest on his laurels without the match. The National Boxing association ranks him No. 2 contender. He has a 20-5 record.

Sawyer, an unrated New Yorker, lost a decision to Kid Paret June 1 which damaged a previous 18-1 record. One other fight was a draw. More than 100 Presbyterian churches in this area will sit together in a special cheering section for church elder Stinchcomb.

Jones said Park approached him after the game and said he was sorry it had to go that way, but it was the only call he could make.

"I told him 'I don't care how you called it—I just don't think it was a base hit,'" Sam said.

"Park said: 'There was no doubt in my mind.'"

Yanks Finally Top Wilhelm; Indians Take 2-Game Lead

Cleveland's Cal McLish Outduels White Sox' Pierce, 3 to 1

By The Associated Press

If you don't think Hoyt Wilhelm is having trouble these days, consider this: even the New York Yankees can beat him now.

The knuckleballing right-hander considered the choice as the American league's starting pitcher in next Tuesday's All-Star game at Pittsburgh, was the league's unbeaten ace after his first nine decisions. But he hasn't won since, losing his third in a row Tuesday night as the Yankees rapped third-place Baltimore, 4-1.

4th-Place Tie

And if you don't think rapped is apt for a 4-run scoring spree, you may have forgotten that the Yankees had managed only four earned runs off Wilhelm in 59 2/3 innings before Tuesday night. Fact is, this is the first time the Yankees have beaten Wilhelm in five decisions since he became an Oriole last year.

The victory left the Yankees in a fourth-place tie with the Detroit Tigers, who beat Kansas City, 4-0, and four games behind Cleveland. The first-place Indians gained a 2-game lead by defeating Chicago's second-place White Sox, 3-1.

Washington beat last-place Boston, 6-1.

The Yankees, playing without injured Mickey Mantle, got three in the third on a walk and four singles, capped by Yogi Berra's 2-run hit. Art Ditmar (7-5) was the winner with 4 1/3 innings of 2-hit, shutout relief. Duke Maas started and gave up the Birds' other three hits, one Gene Woodling's tenth homer in the fourth inning.

Wilhelm allowed eight of the Yankees' nine hits in his seven innings. Winless in his last four starts, he's been tagged for 14 earned runs in 27 2/3 innings over that span for a 4.50 earned run average. Before the slump his ERA was 1.00. Now it's 1.83, still tops in the AL.

Vic Power's 2-run, inside-the-park homer in the third and Rocky Colavito's twenty-third home run in the sixth backed Cleveland's Cal McLish (9-3), who held the White Sox to four singles and didn't walk a man while winning his fourth straight.

Chicago scored in the third with an unearned run on an error, sacrifice and Luis Aparicio's single. Nellie Fox followed with a single, but McLish then retired 14 in a row before Jim Landis singled for the Sox' final hit leading off in the eighth.

Billy Pierce (8-9) was the

Middleweight King

New York — (AP) — Sweden's Ingemar Johansson today was named Ring magazine's "fighter of the month" for winning the heavyweight championship on his third-round knockout of Floyd Patterson.

The Goteborg gunner will be presented with a gold championship belt when he returns to the United States for the first defense of his title.

Other newcomers Patterson took over Johansson's former spot as the No. 1 contender. There were more newcomers in the No. 1 spot in four other divisions. Ring Editor Nat Fleischer

Colavito's 4 Homers At Baltimore Equal 2 Clubs' Output

Boston — (AP) — When Cleveland outfielder Rocky Colavito recently hit four home runs in four consecutive times at bat in Baltimore he equaled a year's output for two clubs.

Official American league records showed that in the 1958 season the New York Yankees hit only seven home runs in Baltimore; Kansas City hit six, Boston, Cleveland (Colavito one of those), and Detroit five each.

Washington and Chicago were able to produce only four home runs each in their 11 games in the spacious Baltimore park last season.

Floyd Early Favorite For Return Match

His Right Hand Pay Off Again

BY MURRAY ROSE

In setting this early line, the bookies have displayed a lot more boldness than a lot of still smarting, red-faced "experts" — especially the writer.

But on the basis of the information I had and what I had seen, I feel my pick was justified. I predicted it would be an explosive, bloody battle. I said there was a possibility that Patterson might get nailed but I said I didn't think it would happen.

I had plenty of company, too. In the AP poll of the "experts" 63 of 69 picked Patterson, mostly by a kayo. Four of the seven Swedish writers, polled picked Patterson. Presumably they had seen Johansson in pro action.

I think I was the only American correspondent to cover the entire boxing tournament at Helsinki in 1952. I saw Johansson win three decisions and then get disqualified for not fighting in the final against the late Eddie Sanders of California.

Anyone who saw the handsome Swede go through his lackadaisical workouts in preparing for Patterson had to be influenced by what he saw.

The one impressive phase of

2 No-Hitters Spice Action in In Cub Boys Baseball Loop

Two no-hitters were tossed in the Appleton Recreation Department's Cub Boys Baseball league last week as the pitching continued to be strong.

Jim Emerich fanned 15 batters and got credit for a no-hit win in Herbs Service's 5-1 win over Peerless Paint. Don Hayes got credit in the Foxes Baseball Club 17-0 victory over Acme Press.

In the Minor league, Voelck market stayed undefeated in the American division by shutting out Hotel Appleton behind the 5-hit hurling of Jack Plamann. Gary Hietpas, playing for Grishabers Service, got all three hits as Home Furniture beat his team, 11-2, behind the 3-hit hurling of Gene Patzner.

In the National division, Tim and Terry Grapengieser had five hits between them to pace the Optimists to a 17-0 shutout over Schaefer Dairy. Jim Bertschy was the winning pitcher. Pond's beat Elm Tree, 13-10, behind Tom Abel his training was the number of left jabs he threw and his superb condition.

Red Smith, the New York Herald Tribune's columnist who also was at Helsinki, and who also was caught on a short limb, had this to say:

"Some who visited the companionable mountain retreat where Johansson trained en famille went up there hoping to see a professional whom they could hail as a challenger qualified to give the champion a real test. They were disappointed."

who whiffed 14 batters and got 4-for-4 in the hit column.

Dick Gosz tossed a 1-hit, 26-win for Sindahls' as they beat Brettschneider's. Tony Busch, Mike Jacklin and Ron Komp each had three hits in the win.

In the Major league, the Cubs beat the Giants, 5-1. Jerry Spencer led the Cubs attack with a pair of hits.

runners made it on a fielder's choice and an error.

Sam retired 22 of the last 24 he faced, putting down 10 in a row before Gilliam walked in the sixth, then getting eight straight before the hit. Gilliam reached second in the eighth on a passed ball, but go no farther as Wally Moon fouled out. Jones got the side in order in the ninth, fanning Gil Hodges for his tenth strikeout and the final out.

Jones, 33, pitched his no-hitter against Pittsburgh when he was with the Cubs, May 12, 1955. Last May 13, he had Philadelphia no-hit until Willie Jones beat out an infield dribbler with two out in the seventh. He finished with a 2-hitter.

Mays Homers

Mays' winning shot, his thirteenth home run, followed a leadoff double by Jim Davenport in the third off loser Don Drysdale (8-6), who gave up nine of the Giants' 10 hits as they won their third in a row.

A ninth-inning home run by Dick Groat ended a 3-3 tie for Pittsburgh against Robin Roberts (6-7). Reliever Roy Face got the final two outs for his eventful save, putting it away for Harvey Haddix (5-6).

Right-hander Larry Jackson (7-6) beat the Cubs with a four-hitter, allowing only a bunt hit over the last six innings. Dick Gray, who singled home the winning run in the second inning, Ken Boyer and Bill White each stole two bases as the Cards won their fourth in a row.

Ken Boyer of the St. Louis Cardinals slides into second base on a steal as a ball thrown by Chicago Cubs catcher Sam Taylor rolls off his shoulder after hitting him in the head. Cubs shortstop Ernie Banks awaits throw which never reached him. Boyer, who was safe, remained in the game. The Cards won, 4-1.

BABA's Southern All-Stars Named

Will Play 1st-Half Champion Waupaca July 29 at Manawa

New London — Final arrangements for the Waupaca All-Stars of the Southern division of the Badger Amateur Baseball association Wednesday night, July 29, at Manawa, were made Monday night during a meeting of the league managers at Waupaca.

Waupaca, managed by Scotty Potts, who also is league president, was undefeated during the first round of the season to merit the right to meet the All-Stars.

The All-Stars will be co-managed by Ken Strong of Greenville, and Chuck Self of New London.

The choices are catchers Marlin Brown of New London, and Fran Roman of Manawa, and pitchers Shelly Rusch of New London, Dave Roman of Manawa, Jim Selback of Hortonville and Roy Thiel of Greenville.

Playing the other positions will be Lonnie Knoke of Weyauwega, first base; Don Flunker of Hortonville, second base; Bob Broehm of Greenville, short stop; Mel Myers of New London, third base; Bill Thoma of Manawa, left field; Dick Watson of Hortonville, right field, and Ed Algiers, New London, center field.

The four alternate players are Byron Purchatzke of Weyauwega, Tom Radtke of Weyauwega, Ed Gorman of Manawa and Jim Sopata of Greenville.

The league also named its players for the BABA All-Star game July 15 at Marion. The All-Stars from the Southern, Central and Northern divisions will meet the All-Stars from the Eastern and Western divisions of the BABA.

The Southern division team will include Fran Roman, catcher; Dave Roman and Rusch, pitchers; Gary Davis of Waupaca, first base; Stan Grove of Waupaca, second base; Broehm, shortstop; Bob Weller of Waupaca, third base; and Thoma, Algiers, Larry Kamp of Weyauwega and Watson, fielders.

The league also was called on to decide a protest by Weyauwega in the Hortonville game. The game went eight innings and was called by darkness with the score tied four-all. The umpire called a balk and a ball on the same play and Weyauwega protested the decision.

League managers decided that Hortonville and Weyauwega are to decide the issue by playing the game over.

loser. He's won only three of his last 10 decisions. Frank Lary (9-4) blanked the A's on five hits for his first shutout since June, 1958. He struck out seven, walked none and put down 13 in order before Jerry Lumpe and Dick Williams led off the ninth with singles. Lary then fanned Kent Hadley, and required power guys Roger Maris and Bob Cerv. The Tigers scored in the first on Charlie Maxwell's seventeenth homer, and added two unearned runs in the second on an error by loser Rip Coleman (2-7).

Paye Throneberry, who homered, and Harmon Killebrew had half of Washington's 10 hits and each drove in two runs, both getting RBI singles as the Nats scored four unearned runs in the second against loser Tom Brewer (5-5). Pete Ramos (8-7) made it four out of five against Boston this season with a 6-hitter.

Chicago — In most major league baseball games, only one ball is in play at a time. But spectators and players at Tuesday's Chicago Cubs-St. Louis Cardinals game were startled to see two baseballs bounding around the field at the same time. Among those startled was Stan Musial.

Musial walked in the fourth inning on a 3-1 pitch which caromed off Chicago catcher Sammy Taylor and Umpire Vic Delmore and went back toward the home plate screen.

While Taylor and pitcher Bob Anderson were busy at home plate protesting the umpire's call, Musial took off for second base.

'91 Has Two Kellers in Lineup

St. Petersburg, Fla. — The St. Petersburg Saints of the Class D Florida State league have two familiar names in their lineup. They are Charlie Keller, Jr., an outfielder, and Don Keller, his younger brother who plays third base. Papa Keller was the New York Yankee left fielder for 10 seasons.

Sacramento, Calif. — Sonny Ray, 1721, Chicago, outpointed Roque Maravilla, 1751, Boise, Idaho, 10.

Not Properly Trained

Johansson Feels Criticism of His '52 Olympic Showing Was Unfair

BY MURRAY ROSE

New York — The night of Aug. 2, 1952, at the Olympic games at Helsinki, Finland, was a glorious one for Uncle Sam.

It was the night five of his nephews won Olympic boxing points) three times, before giving him the heave-ho at the end of the second round. The piercing din of whistling was ear-splitting.

Johansson wiped out the bitter memory and became his country's sports idol long before he knocked out Floyd Patterson to win the world pro heavyweight title.

He is not reluctant to discuss the incident. He feels most of the criticism was unfair.

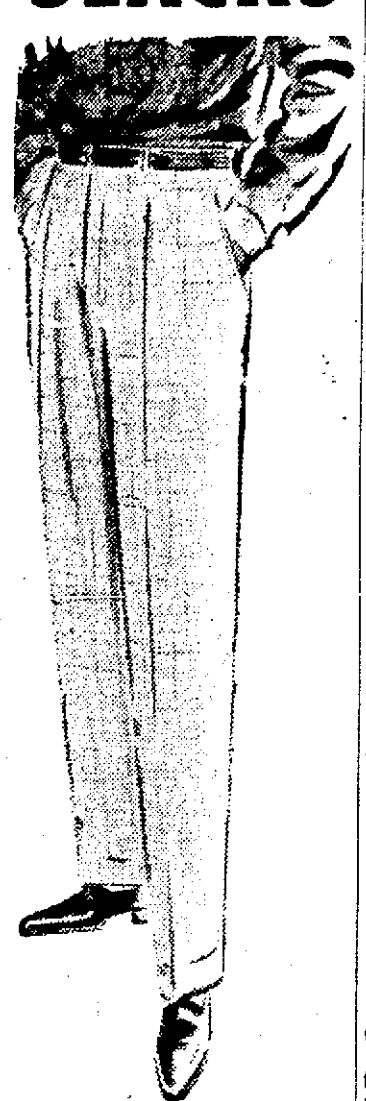

"I wasn't in the best condition that night," Johansson said. "Our team was not properly trained. By the night of the finals I was tired."

"My coaches told me my only chance to win against Sanders was to keep back and wait for an opening. Then I couldn't go all-out for three rounds. I was to depend on getting an opening for the right."

"But Sanders was a counter-boxer just like I was. He moved in on me, yes. But he would take a step and wait for me to throw a punch. The referee warned us both twice. Then the third time I was disqualified."

The referee cautioned Johansson twice and officially warned him (that takes away

LC-K Plays 3 League Games In Four Days

Entertain Freedom, Go to Kaukauna In Key Contests

Kimberly—The Little Chute-Kimberly baseball team will play three games in four days as the Fox Valley League closes out first round action.

Thursday night LC-K will entertain title minded Freedom at the Kimberly Athletic field at 8 p. m.

Saturday, July 4, the squad will clash with undefeated Kaukauna at the Klubbers diamond in an afternoon tilt at 2:30 p. m. The contest may well decide the first round championship providing the Papermakers get by Freedom Thursday.

Sunday Game
Sunday LC-K will meet Valley Fair of Appleton to close out the first round. The game will be at Little Chute. Freedom has a 5-1 record to hold third place in the league. Undoubtedly Mike Vanden Heuvel will hurl for the Freedom club in an effort to keep them in the title race. Vanden Heuvel's latest triumph was over the tough Menasha Mads.

Kaukauna is currently leading the league with a 6-0 record. Top notch pitching by Joe Van Linn has propelled the Klubbers to the leading spot.

Players Injured
LC-K has several players injured and will be using replacements. Ron Weigman is probably lost for the season with a recurrence of a back injury. Some shuffling around will be necessary to fill his second base spot. Catcher Hank Peerenboom has a broken index finger on his right hand, however, he has indicated that he intends to be in the lineup to try out the hand.

Outfielder Phil Williams and co-manager Elmer Kobs will be out of town for the Saturday game. Veteran Jim Nirschl will come out of retirement to fill in for the Kaukauna game.

LC-K will have its mound staff intact as Al Harke, Bob Schmidt and Faye Mehlberg will be ready for action. Either Schmidt or Harke may start against Freedom with the other against Kaukauna. Mehlberg will probably go against Valley Fair.

Two Boys Admit Vandalism, Window Breaking

Kaukauna—Two boys, 10 and 11 years of age, have admitted to Chief of Police Harold V. Engerson of causing damage to potted plants and ornamental decorations at Holy Cross cemetery over the weekend.

The boys were picked up Monday after tips from persons who had seen them in the area. They admitted breaking twelve potted plants against grave markers causing considerable mess on the grounds.

When questioned about broken windows at a vacant service station at Lawe street and Green Bay road, the youths admitted breaking the windows and implicated two other boys. The boys were released to their parents who were ordered to make restitution for damages.

Damage to flower pots was estimated at $15 while no amount of damage was placed on the 45 small windows reported broken at the service station.

KAC Softball Tournament Workers Named

Kaukauna—Committee chairmen for the second annual invitational softball tournament to be held here July 8 through 12 were appointed at a special meeting of the Kaukauna Athletic club executive committee Monday night.

Lloyd Kloehe will head the prize committee. Roger Bellinger will have charge of the public address system. Tom Nyles was named official scorer. Jack Hilgenberg has charge of refreshments and Fred Reichel has charge of tickets.

This year 20 teams have been signed to participate rather than 16 as previously planned.

Athletic Association To See All-Star Film

Little Chute—Films of the 1938 All-Star baseball game will be shown at the meeting of the St. John Athletic association at 8 p. m. today at the high school.

Members of the board of directors will meet at 7 p. m. to map preliminary plans for the session.

Recreation Tennis Teams Formed After Instructions

Kaukauna—After three weeks of elementary instruction on the forehand, backhand, serve and scoring, two tennis teams have been formed by the recreation department with four men on each team.

Additional players will be added to the teams as they give indication they have progressed sufficiently in learning fundamentals to be able to begin regular play, according to Harold Kohn, instructor.

Making up the Forest Hill

Little Chute President Praises Civil Defense Police Unit for Work

Little Chute—President Paul Kostka has issued a statement of commendation for the auxiliary police of the Civil Defense unit in the village.

Kostka said the police aided the local authorities at the American Legion picnic and did an "outstanding job." The president said the picnic "was one of the most orderly we have experienced in the village."

Kostka said the village residents should feel more secure because of the fact they have a well trained auxiliary police unit that can help out in times of emergency or at special gatherings.

Members of the unit worked in shifts during the busy hours of the picnic.

Works Board to Study Township Dump Contract

Kaukauna—The board of public works of the common council will meet at 7 p. m. Monday to discuss the change in the dumping contract as proposed by the Town of Buchanan.

The city entered into contract with the township on Oct. 1, 1937 to pay $35 per month for dumping rights. Recently the township asked for a $15 per month increase which would be incorporated into a new contract. The fee is over and above another dumping fee paid by the city to property owners where the debris is deposited.

A meeting of the finance committee is scheduled for 8:30 p. m. Monday when fleet insurance bids for city vehicles to be covered is available from the city clerk.

Dodge Street Ball Diamond Being Repaired

Council Committee
Hopes Fill, Grading
Solves Drain Problem

Kaukauna — The health and recreation committee of the common council has authorized extensive repair work on the baseball diamond on Dodge street in an attempt to solve the drainage problem which forces postponement of many games.

For many years the field has been saucer shaped particularly around the bases and water drains from the pitcher's mound and other high spots into the depression.

Tentative plans call for the committee to consider sodding of the infield at the conclusion of the baseball season. The field is given heavy use by the high school baseball team, Legion team, Fox Vallem team and teams competing in the recreation department leagues.

Work on the field is expected to be completed within a few days making it possible for the Kimberly-Little Chute game Saturday afternoon.

Filling and Grading

Lester Pitt has been hired to bring in 20 or 30 yards of fill and to do necessary grading and leveling to solve the drainage problem. The pitcher's mound and home plate will be removed and reset for the leveling and grading project.

Work on the field is expected to be completed within a few days making it possible for the Kimberly-Little Chute game Saturday afternoon.

White Sox to Sponsor Boys Baseball School Monday

Kaukauna — The Chicago White Sox will sponsor a baseball school for Kaukauna youngsters Monday at the Dodge street diamond under the direction of John Mostil, White Sox scout and former center fielder for the American League team.

Mostil has the distinction of being the only center fielder in major league play to have made an out by catching a foul ball. He will be assisted by another White Sox scout and Harry Wilson, Kaukauna High school coach and former minor league player, and Jerry Klarer, coach of the Klubbers and former minor league player.

The school was arranged by Glen Miller, minor league director for the Sox and former Kaukauna resident. Fred Barribeau, recreation baseball loop director, arranged the school with Miller. Boys from 14 through 18-years of age will meet from 9 to 12 a.m. and those from 10 through 13 years will meet from 1 to 4 p.m.

All boys will be registered or in August. Co-chairmen are Ruys and Joseph Van Daalwyk.

Economics Program

Kaukauna — Twenty-two professors representing as many colleges from 14 states visited the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company today as part of the University of Wisconsin "Economics-in Action" program, according to G. E. McCorsion, Thilmany president.

Purpose of the program, supported by grants from mid-west industries, is to provide a point of contact between teachers of economics and the operating problems of industry. A feature of the day's program was a panel discussion by company and union officials.

Day's Program

The economics professors arrived at the plant at 9 a.m. this morning where they were greeted by C. L. Dostal, manufacturing vice president. Following a tour of manufacturing facilities, they joined company officers for lunch at the Kaukauna Elks clubrooms.

The panel discussion and question - and - answer period was held in the company auditorium after the lunch. Members of the panel included McCorsion, Dostal, H. O. Peters, sales vice president; E. R. Sutherland, secretary-treasurer; L. C. Smith, direc-

Rural Appleton Man Jailed for Being Disorderly

Kaukauna — Wilbert Cotter, route 4, Appleton, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail by Oscar T. Jahns, justice of the peace, Monday after he pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct and failed to pay a fine of $25.

Cotter became abusive in a Kaukauna tavern about 11:30 p.m. Saturday and was taken to the city jail by police. After he threatened to kill himself, police took him to the county jail where he once more became abusive, tried to fight and threatened to kill himself and everyone else.

County officials reported it took six men to subdue Cotter and it finally became necessary to call a physician to administer a sedative.

2 Special Events At Village Park

Little Chute — Two special events have been scheduled for this week at the Doyle park playground, according to Bill Fitzpatrick, recreation director.

Swimming and diving contests will be held for 10 to 16-year old youngsters Thursday afternoon. The meets were postponed from last week. Youngsters of all ages will be eligible to participate in a scavenger hunt at 2:15 p.m. and Friday. Teams will be formed for the hunt and prizes given to the winners.

Electronic and Others Lead in Upward Movement

New York —(U)— The stock market advanced early this afternoon in a renewed attack on the old highs of the industrial average. Trading was fairly active.

Gains of fractions to more than a point were posted for key stocks while some electronics and other selected issues made bigger gains. The market was pushing hard against heavy overhead resistance represented by stock for sale around the highs reached at the end of May.

Among the higher quality issues, Goodyear spurred about half a dozen points, Du Pont around 4 and Goodrich 3 points or so.

U. S. Steel and Republic Steel added more than a point each.

U. S. Rubber advanced well over a point while Firestone was about unchanged.

International Harvester was up about 2 and Caterpillar more than a point.

Motorola rose more than 4, Texas Instruments and Zenith about 2 apiece and Radio Corp. more than a point. Raytheon erased an early loss.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up $1.29 to $229.30 with the industrials up $2.40, the rails up 70 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

U. S. government bonds were unchanged to a shade lower.

Two Injured in Car Crash at Little Chute

Little Chute—Two men were injured and property damage of $2,200 resulted from an accident at E. Main avenue and Rose Hill road at 1:20 a. m. today.

Police said a car driven by Eugene Vanden Heuvel, 401 W. Wisconsin avenue, Kaukauna, struck the rear of a vehicle driven by Donald E. Nagel, 24, 228 Sarah street, Kaukauna.

The impact forced Nagel's car off the left side of the road knocking off two mail boxes. Vanden Heuvel careened off the right side of the street. Vanden Heuvel suffered a cut tongue and there was about $1,000 damage to his 1959 model car. Nagel had a cut on the right leg and another cut near his right eye and head bruises. He was taken to Kaukauna Community hospital by the Little Chute police.

His car valued at $1,200 was damaged beyond repair.

Movie to Aid Museum In Meeting Expenses

Officials of the Circus World museum expect that the premier showing of "The Big Circus" will help boost them over the top of meeting their expenses before they turn the museum over to the State Historical society July 1.

Expenses of building the museum, equipping it and decorating it for the opening have run close to $100,000. Because the premier showing of the movie is being provided free of charge by Allied Artists, the $5 tickets are clear profit.

East Broils as Fox Cities Shiver

Most of the nation continued to cast envious glances at the northern Midwest today — small consolation to Fox Cities residents listening to the oil burner kicking on!

The heat wave still grasped the nation from southern Nevada eastward across northern New Mexico and into southwestern Oklahoma then northeastward into northern Illinois and eastward through northern Pennsylvania and into the Atlantic.

Baltimore simmered through the third straight day of 100 degree or higher heat Tuesday. At least nine deaths were attributed to the hot weather in Maryland this week.

Bubbling Mercury
It was 100 in Washington and Boston recorded a 94. Thermometers bubbled past 100 degrees in the south Atlantic states and Gulf region. Some showers and thunderstorms dotted the Midwest and Florida. A 10-year-old Little League baseball player was killed by lightning in Indianapolis last night during a game.

In the Fox Cities, however, there was another picture. The high for the last day in June — was 59, the summer, you know — was 59. The overnight low was 52 and the mercury had climbed only one degree by 10:30 a.m. today.

The fall-like weather is expected to end Thursday.

Upkeep High, Ice Cream Cones Out For Bearded Male; in Short, No Fun

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The gaudy fact that I am the possessor of an insignificant beard is perhaps a matter of small moment to all the world and to you. But it has occurred to me that the events which do. And, since most male members of the homo sapiens family can do so unimaginative a thing as to cease shaving for a time, almost all of us are willing to try it.

Preventatives

In our effete society, however, the nurturing and cultivation of a beard is not the easiest venture. To prevent such boldness, there are such things as (1) the lady of the house who considers bearded folk a vulgarity to be tolerated.

to the bearding processes are (2) friends who make caustic remarks, (3) people who stare at a fellow in the throes of raising a beard, as a tourist attraction, (4) the dread of deviation from man's ordinary pursuits—the lack of freedom in being different from all else which, these days, is abhorrent to the American—and (5) the confounded, everlasting, heart-rending, damnable itchiness.

The other preventatives

That final preventative is a dandy repellent for the bearded. Five or six days of resolute refusal to shave is a magnificent freedom which must be loved by all men. However, on the sixth day or so the brother of the brush is seized with an impelling urge to scratch. The urge is a last, vegetate a fluff. His motives are not for me to question nor to answer. It is just a natural thought. If a fellow can stand on his head, it but scratch, scratch, scratch is natural for him to try it. If he believes he at the newly germinated coil is able to make popcorn with verve and im-

Scratching Spreads

I have carefully noted that when I enter a room occupied by men, almost every one in the room will soon begin a furious scratching of his own stubble. It is an infectious thing I enter a room, and everyone scratches unconsciously, perhaps in sympathy of my daily agony and the wasted hours spent in doing nothing but beard-scratching.

My present appearance, which is something like that of an irascible porcupine, has propelled me into some odd experiences.

Children long to tug upon the whiskers. When they are bold enough to request permission to do so, I readily permit it. This serves as a kind of scratching service for which no payment is required.

Curious Conversation

If I am out of my home stamping grounds, strangers will seek to engage me in conversation. I have found that I can get into a kind of game which is somewhat engrossing. Most strangers will be said simply and eloquently cause a bearded fellow hereabout is not necessarily a beatnik. (Such critters have not yet arrived in our domain.)

Hence, strangers seem to feel that a fellow with a billowy goat beard must have a good reason for being like that. But they never ask at the outset. They slowly and gradually build toward the question which I know, sooner or later, will come.

"You're not from around this part of the country, are you?" is a very common means of starting the series of talk which will lead to the 'question. During the interrogation, I know and am repelled by my sadistic sense which keeps me from telling them immediately what they want to know. But I never do, and it is fun to watch the clever maneuvering which will finally lead to the denouement.

Side-Door Probing

"Yes," I answer, "I'm from around here." But my answers (because I am by nature a rather mean man) are seldom informative enough to provide him with the information he is aching to have. Such probing as a beard-grower is exposed to is almost always directed through the side door. Questioners touch upon every subject except the obvious one: Why are you wearing a beard?

Now I realize that I look something like an 8-year-old shoe brush but when curious persons seek the reason for it they are so polite that there is almost never a reference to the lackluster object which hangs between us. The game I find myself playing prevents me from explaining immediately that I have recently returned from a 1,000-mile canoe trip and must cling grimly to it until the end of this week. The only time I cut through the shyness and parries which seek information is when I think it is necessary (1) to prevent the questioner from dying of curiosity or (2) to get home in time for dinner.

The ladies react differently. When I am in the company of the lady at my house, friends ask her, not me, "How do you like that beard?" The question seems to me to be a strange thing. She has only to look at it; I have to wear it.

One day recently I entered a store and bought some razor blades. The lady who waited on me, a stranger, burning with curiosity because a bearded fellow hereabout is not necessarily a beatnik. (Such critters have not yet arrived in our domain.)

No Ice Cream Cones

A beard causes other problems. A fellow who is toting one is restricted by the nature of things from eating ice cream cones because for some reason, which is not entirely clear to me, he looks funny except when drinking whiskey. I can imagine people staring and saying in horror, "For Pete's sake, look at that fellow there with a beard eating an ice cream cone." It's a dreadful observation.

Nor can I go swimming. A

beard and swimming trunks are an incongruous pair which somehow do not go together.

Furthermore, a beard is an expensive luxury. I do not know how to trim one and nobody else does except barbers. There is a need for a weekly visit where one simply sits in the chair and gives the barber blitzkrieg privileges. It seems imperative that the barber is a friend or else he can, with a grim stroke or two, render a he-man beard to a silly one.

Sum-up: Beards are no fun, the upkeep is prohibitive; their owner seldom gets home in time for dinner, and they itch like the furries of the nether regions. I shall not miss mine.

National committee, according to informed sources.

Mrs. Mary Ising of Oshkosh, wife of a dentist, is mentioned most prominently for election to the party office vacated by Mrs. Marion Fox of Madison.

Mrs. Fox resigned for what are described as compelling personal reasons. Reportedly she will live in another state.

Mrs. Ising is one of the most widely known women in Republican politics in Wisconsin, has been district leader of the party in the sixth congressional district and recently was elected secretary of the state committee.

The successor to Mrs. Fox will be chosen by the state committee at its next meeting.

The Republican state convention will have an opportunity to nominate again for the full term in 1960, when new members of the national committee will be seated by the Republican national convention.

Gets Robber's Bill

Baltimore — It was bad enough that a burglar ransacked his apartment and left with $750 in jewelry. But what really annoyed John A. Blair was the bill he received for three phone calls to Macon, Ga., apparently made by the thief.

India Won't Back Dalai Lama Claim

New Delhi — The Indian government made clear Tuesday it does not support the fugitive Dalai Lama's claim that he is running the real government of Tibet from his self-imposed exile in India. A foreign ministry spokesman said the Indian government does "not recognize any separate government of Tibet and there is therefore no question of a Tibetan government under the Dalai Lama functioning in India." The 23-year-old Buddhist god-king told a news conference at Mussoorie June 20 that "wherever I am, I am accompanied by my government, which the Tibetan people recognize as the government of Tibet."
